TOKYO (AP)—Communist China said today it is ready to hold private talks with the Soviet Union on the ideological issues splitting the Communist bloc. But it coupled this offer with a slashing attack on Premier Khrushchev for "double dealing" and demanded apologies.

China's Demands

The Chinese Communist party made this condition for the peace talks proposed by Moscow in a 70,000-word editorial in the Peking People's Daily. It also demanded that the Russian Communists repudiate their renewed friendship with Yugoslavia and cease their attacks on Peking's tiny Balkan ally, Albania.

The editorial and its slashing criticism indicated the Chinese-Soviet relations are as angry as ever despite recent public signs of attempts to ease the quarrel. Peking's conditions for peace talks are clearly unacceptable to Moscow.

Opposition Items

The Chinese for the first time took public notice of (1) the Soviet Union's supply of MIG-21 jet fighters to India, (2) the tearing up by Khrushchev of hundreds of Chinese aid contracts and (3) his bitter opposition to Chairman Mao Tse-tung's pet programs—the industrial leap forward and the peoples' communes.

Without naming names, the paper charged that in 1960 "certain comrades" put economic pressure on China. This was clearly Khrushchev's Russia.

Khrushchev Accused

The editorial accused Khrushchev of starting the squabble in the Communist camp by publicly taking sides with India on Sept. 9, 1959, over the then developing China-India border dispute.

This apparently referred to a Tass statement issued that day urging both sides to settle the quarrel but refraining from giving full backing to China. It was published just before Khrushchev left for his tour of the United States.

Peking said Soviet attacks on China and Albania picked up following the "Carmichael talks" between Khrushchev and President Eisenhower—and have continued ever since.

11 Airmen Killed 19 Years Ago Go To Capital Grave

WASHINGTON (AP)—Eleven airmen who died together 19 years ago will finally be put to rest today in a single grave not far from the Tomb of the Unknowns.

The 11 were killed when their 5th Air Force B-25 crashed into the side of a tropical mountain in New Guinea on Feb. 1, 1944.

For 17 years their fate was a mystery. The plane had been on a ferrying mission from Dobodura to Port Moresby. The last word he had run into bad weather and was turning back. Then silence.

Found in 1961

After a number of unsuccessful searches, a U.S. Army-Australian search party in April 1961 found the wreckage, and the remains of the men, 10,500 feet up on Mt. Kenevi in the Owen Stanley Range. It was one of a dozen such wrecks found in the New Guinea wilderness since World War II.

Recently, the Defense Department brought the crew's remains home, arranged for military honors and burial in Arlington National Cemetery, and brought the next of kin to Washington for the funeral today.

List of Dead

The 11 were: Sgt. Jack E. Beals, West Hollywood, Fla.; Staff Sgt. Marvin Culbreth, Dearing, Ga.; Sgt. Harold B. Davis, Zanesville, Ohio; Lt. Angelo C. Dellisante, Corning, N.Y.; Sgt. Charles G. Fann, Murfreesboro, Tenn.; Lt. Walter R. Gerry, East Providence, R.I.; Sgt. Raymond F. Greene, Norwood, Mass.; Cpl. Edward R. Howard, Hingham, Mass.; Capt. Rudolph W. Johnson, Muskegon, Mich.; Sgt. Milton S. Miller, Bridgeport, Conn.; Capt. Lamar S. Russell, Goldhill, N.C.

Wagner Asks Strike Reports, Act Later

NEW YORK (AP)—Armed a growing dispute over automation, striking printers and publishers of New York City's nine closed dailies have failed in what was termed a last-ditch effort to end the newspaper blackout, now in its 82nd day.

Further complicating the stalemate, machinists on the nine papers have threatened to strike unless they get a contract satisfactory to them.

The next step is up to Mayor Robert F. Wagner, who announced results of the unsuccessful printer-publisher negotiations after both sides met without him for more than six hours Tuesday at a secret location.

Wagner, who has been acting as mediator in the contractual dispute since Jan. 26, called for both sides to submit written reports to him today.

"When I receive those reports," he said, "I will announce the next step I will take."

The mayor did not indicate when he would present his own strike settlement recommendation.

In Cleveland, Ohio, where the printers are one of four unions still on strike, the blackout of that city's two newspapers entered its 90th day.

Turned Over by Secret Army Arrest Details Delay Trial of 15 Plotters

PARIS (AP)—The police explanation of the arrest of Secret Army chieftain Antoine Argoud interrupted the trial today of 15 persons accused of plotting to assassinate President Charles de Gaulle.

The court recessed the trial until Thursday while Argoud was interviewed. The police said Argoud told them he had been kidnapped in Munich and brought to Paris to be handed over to them.

News Startles Paris

The news of Argoud's arrest startled Paris, for he had been extremely successful at keeping out of the hands of the police. He was tried in absentia and sentenced to death for his role in the abortive generals' putsch in Algiers.

Another anonymous caller in Rome telephoned The Associated Press and said Argoud had left there a few days ago for Munich. He claimed Argoud was kidnapped in Munich by French police or special agents.

Highland Driver Is Killed Enroute to Kingston IBM

A 49-year-old assembly worker employed at Kingston International Business Machines Corp. plant was killed at 6:50 a. m. today when his 1959 car was involved in a head-on collision on the Tucker's Corners Road, one-and-a-half miles south of Route 44-55, Town of Plattekill.

Highland state police said Thomas F. McCormack, 49, of RD 2, Box 349, Highland was pronounced dead at the scene by Ulster County Coroner Francis J. McCurdy.

Troopers reported Keith Adelbert Robbins, 24, of P. O. Box 123, Clintondale, operator of the other vehicle involved in the collision was summoned on charges of failing to yield one-half of the road and failing to notify the Motor Vehicle Department of a change of address. The summons is returnable before Justice of the Peace James F. Palen, Town of Plattekill at a future date.

According to troopers, Robbins was driving his 1955 car south in the northbound lane and McCormack was proceeding north when the vehicles crashed head-on on a left curve.

The extent of injuries suffered by McCormack will be determined later, troopers said. Troopers reported no injuries were suffered by Robbins.

Investigating the fatality were BCI Senior Investigator Edward Shannon and Troopers Richard Koons, G. W. Zappolo, and Wayne Lawrence.

Armed Forces of Hemisphere Are To Be Used if Cuba Branches Out

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk has pledged that Fidel Castro will be blocked from trying to export armed attack. His assurances seem unlikely to quiet the crackling debate over the administration's handling of the Cuban problem.

Rusk said in Houston Tuesday night that if Cuba tries to use arms outside its territory it "will be met with the armed forces of the hemisphere" and repeated that "a Soviet military presence on that island cannot be accepted."

Use of arms by Cuba outside the island, he said, would be "intercepted, interrupted and stopped."

Zena's -31 Is Coldest Of Winter 23-Year Low Set Here for Feb. 27

The coldest temperature recorded this winter in Ulster County—31 below zero at Zena in the Town of Woodstock early today—was indicated in a roundup of mercury readings in the area.

The official low temperature in Kingston this morning, -12, broke a 23-year record set for this date in 1940 when -4 was recorded by the City Engineer's Office.

In what was described by The Associated Press as one of the coldest Februarys, an unofficial state low of -44 was reported in the Adirondack community of Bloomingdale.

Tilson Has 24 Below

Although the Ulster County low at Zena is unofficial, a check of other thermometers in the Zena area confirmed the low reading. An unofficial overnight low of -24 was reported at Tilson.

By comparison, the official low reading at the Gatehouse, Ashokan Reservoir was exactly zero early today.

Other low points in Ulster County included Hurley -17; Pine Grove -18; Highland Ave. section of Kingston -16; Highland -15; Glencliff -12; Ellenville -11; Woodstock -10; Chichester -6 and Blue Mountain Reservoir -5.

At neighboring check points, Leeds in Greene County reported an unofficial low of -5; Poughkeepsie -13, and Rhinebeck -10.

City Report

The record low for February reported by the city engineers was -14 on Feb. 15, 1943, and -13 on Feb. 1, 1955.

The Associated Press reported it was below zero everywhere upstate.

Update in Deep Freeze
It was below zero everywhere upstate.

Thursday will be generally a little warmer, with scattered snow flurries, after a warming trend today and tonight, the weather bureau said.

That official 31 below zero was at Wanaque, in the Adirondacks west of Tupper Lake, and it was one of the coldest days residents could recall. The mercury hit -38 in 1961. The owner of radio station WNBZ, Saranac Lake, said his reading at Bloomingdale was -44.

In southwestern New York, there were official lows of -30 at Arcade, -29 at Wellsville and -26 at Olean. Saranac Lake also recorded -29.

Other Lows Listed
Other overnight lows, all below zero:

Oneonta 20; Plattsburgh 18; Cortland -17; Glens Falls 14; Poughkeepsie and Watertown 13; Newburgh 12; Rome 11; Albany, Massena and Utica 10; Rochester and Syracuse 5; Binghamton 4; Buffalo 3.

The weather bureau said temperatures this month in the Albany area have averaged about 5.5 degrees below normal. In the Upstate area as a whole, there have been 15 days of zero or lower temperatures, the bureau said.

Gromyko in Norway

OSLO, Norway (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko arrived today for an eight-day official visit.

In a message to the council of the Organization of American States, presented by his foreign minister, Jesus Unda Murillo, Ydigoras said self respect among the OAS members demands a solution to "the frightful case of Cuba" if need be "with bayonets fixed."

Both Ydigoras, and Unda Murillo urged joint action by hemisphere nations to enforce the Monroe Doctrine's ban on outside domination in the Americas.

Only by cleaning out "the European and Asiatic" from Cuba, Ydigoras wrote, "will it be possible to bring to a successful conclusion the American."

A few hours in advance of Gromyko's speech President Manuel Ydigoras Fuentes of Guatemala formally called on the American republics to unite in cleaning European and Asiatic Communists out of "the unfortunate island of Cuba" by military means if necessary.

Cogswell and Loeffler Are Named to Fire Department

Appointment of two men to the fire department was approved by the Board of Fire Commissioners Tuesday night.

Named to start on duty March 16 were: Edward F. Cogswell, 31, of 56 Emerick Street, and William T. Loeffler, 25, of 1 Rodney Street.

They were named in compliance with a state law which permits fire departments to increase personnel for a gradual reduction of working hours. Locally, the work week will be reduced from 56 to 48 hours in three years.

Appointments were made from a civil service eligibility list bearing three names. A third man on the list, it was noted, indicated no interest in appointment at this time.

A new eligibility list is expected to result of a written civil service test taken earlier this month.

Both appointees are Kingston natives. Cogswell attended School No. 5 and Kingston High School, and was employed some seven years by Henry A. Olson Inc. a roofing concern of Port Ewen. He is a member of the Lake Katrine Rod and Gun Club and the Kingston Power Boat Association.

Loeffler attended former School No. 1 and Kingston High School. He had served in the U. S. Army in the 1950's and is now in the inactive reserve. A member of Twaalfskill Hose Company, he had been employed for about a year and a half as a motor equipment operator with the city's public works department. His father, the late Robert A. Loeffler, had served in that department for some 40 years.

Whole Country Concerned

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court today plunges once again into the emotion-charged issue of religion in public schools.

It begins hearing arguments on two cases which may have impact in classrooms all across the land. Before the nine justices are appeals involving use of the Lord's Prayer and readings from the Bible in schools in Maryland and Pennsylvania.

The cases have national scope and will give the tribunal an opportunity to spell out how far it believes the founding fathers intended to go in separating church and state.

Interest Sharpens
Interest in the Pennsylvania and Maryland cases sharpened after the Supreme Court's 6-1 decision last June 25, declaring unconstitutional the use in New York public schools of a non-denominational prayer written by state school officials.

That decision brought down a storm of criticism on the court. Some critics saw it as the first step in an assault on the nation's religious heritage.

The court received support from those who contended the "official prayer" was a breach of the First and 14th Amendments to the Constitution.

The First Amendment states "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof." The 14th Amendment, adopted in 1868, imposed these restrictions on the states as well as Congress.

Forced to Rule
Under its customary practice, the Supreme Court found it necessary to rule on the Pennsylvania and Maryland appeals—whether it wanted to or not.

In the Maryland case, a state court ruled Bible readings and recitation of the Lord's Prayer did not violate the Constitution. Federal judges in Pennsylvania, however, said the opposite. A final decision by the higher tribunal in such an important appeal was required.

No Schools Closed
It is noted that no school closings were reported in the county, indicating that the situation cannot be termed serious.

The attendance reports today from Kingston Schools Consolidated indicate that the situation is slightly improved, but the trend of absenteeism has changed from the upper grades to the elementary classes.

Increases in absenteeism over last Wednesday's report were indicated at five elementary schools, Anna Devine, which had 6 absent last week, showed 20 today; Hurley 48 last week, 69 today; Lake Katrine 73 and 113; Sophie G. Finn School 27 and 56, and Meagher (Old No. 5 School) 51 and 88.

Better at KHS
Last week Kingston High listed 420 absent, today the figure is 313, of 86.8 per cent in attendance, out of an enrollment of 2,333. Seven teachers are absent compared with 11 last Wednesday.

In last week's report the total absent in Kingston Schools Consolidated was 1,079. This figure has dropped to 1,030 for today.

A report on the situation by The Associated Press indicates that the wave of illness is continuing.

Overture To China Apparent Takes Firm Stand On Treaty Check

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Khrushchev warned today that the Soviet Union "would come to the aid of its friends" should the West launch any attack on Cuba or Red China.

"The imperialists must know," he told an election rally in the Kremlin, "that if they unleash a new atomic war they will themselves be burned in the fires of that war."

Notes Formosa Menace
Thus we went a step beyond Defense Minister Rodion Malinovsky, who threatened the United States with atomic war in a speech Friday if an attack was launched on Cuba. Khrushchev extended this to include Red China, saying it was being menaced from Formosa.

He seemed to be making another overture to Peking, with which Moscow is locked in an ideological dispute over how to advance the cause of communism in the world.

The premier also took a firm stand on the question of nuclear disarmament. He declared the Soviet Union will never go beyond its offer of two or three on-site inspections a year under a treaty to ban nuclear testing.

Says U.S. to Blame
Khrushchev accused the United States of dragging out negotiations at Geneva, then mentioned the two to three inspections annually which the United States considers far too few.

"Nothing else can be expected from us," he said.

Khrushchev declared earlier in his speech that "in the age of rocket-nuclear weapons, the policy of peaceful coexistence is the only sensible policy."

In an election speech to 6,000 voters in the Kremlin, the Soviet premier emphasized the coexistence theme, which clashes with Peking's views of a tougher policy in dealing with the West.

"The general line of the foreign policy of our state," he said, "is to uphold and strengthen peace, to assert the principles of peaceful coexistence in the relations between states with different social systems."

Election Is Sunday
The elections for the Soviet Union's Parliament will be held Sunday.

Khrushchev devoted his opening remarks to Soviet agriculture, saying that "The Soviet people are maintaining a good pace in peaceful economic competition."

Lions Told College To Have Big Impact

Ulster's Community College to provide important educational needs to the people of Ulster County.

This was the central theme presented by Dr. Dale Lake, president of Ulster County's new Community College, to members of the Kingston Lions Club at their weekly meeting. Program chairman for the meeting, Jack Gilligan introduced President Lake who gave an up-to-the-minute progress report on the college.

Reporting on the development of the Community College, Dr. Lake said, "The formation and establishment of the college has been a big job, but the opportunity it will present will have an important impact for the people and youth in Ulster County."

The world today is shrinking he said due to vast improvements in transportation and communications and thus economic and political problems of other nations have a bearing on our lives. Within the last six years, the speaker pointed out, some 60 new nations have become independent. There has also been a tremendous increase in technological methods along with a population explosion. These factors, Dr. Lake noted, mean that the young people of today need increased opportunities in education.

Again emphasizing the need for increased education, Dr. Lake presented these trends and facts. In 1960, 38 per cent of the population went on to higher education. In 1970 it is predicted that 70 per cent of high school students will be furthering their education. This combined with the prediction that by 1970 the number of high school students graduating will be doubled points out the ever increasing need for more educational opportunities. Therefore, Dr. Lake stated the Community College must continually look ahead in meeting the demands of young people in the county.

President Lake reported that three programs or curricula will be offered—Liberal Arts, Engineering, Science and Business. Commenting on the building facilities available, he said that class room space, labs and libraries will be adequate for the first two years of the college.

The faculty of the college will be outstanding as qualified

Appoint Schulman President Woodstock Taxpayer Group

The Executive Board of the Woodstock Township Taxpayers Association has announced the appointment of Walter H. Schulman as president and Sidney Doman as vice president.

The new appointees fill the unexpired terms of John Melia and Lawrence G. Casey, who resigned several months ago. Mrs. Hazel Freitag of Lake Hill has served as temporary chairman of the board since their resignation.

In addition to Schulman and Doman, the Board of Directors now includes: Arthur Shepard, treasurer; Charles Greco, Annette Dietz, William Rudman, Karl Siegel and Mrs. Freitag.

A meeting will be held in March for the members to meet the new officers and map out a program for the coming year. All members will be notified by mail.

Schulman and his wife, the artist Pearl Evans, reside in Bearsville and have been residents of Woodstock township for 17 years and on a permanent basis since 1956.

Doman and his wife, Marie, came to Lake Hill three years ago. Last year they bought the Holdridge Estates and renamed it "The Country Club Motel." This year the name was changed to "The Villager Motel and Apartments."

Active in Tax Field

A member of the New York and New Jersey bars, Schulman has been active in the tax field, in addition to general law practice, for more than 35 years, serving as counsel to taxpayers, lawyers and accountants. He has written numerous articles and lectured extensively to real estate boards, bar associations and other organizations on tax matters.

In 1936 he addressed the first Metropolitan Realty Conference held by the Real Estate Boards of New York, Bronx, Queens and Richmond counties and attended by more than 1,000 realtors at the Hotel Commodore in New York City. He spoke on the subject: "Federal and State Income Taxes Affecting Real Estate."

Schulman was associated with the counsel to the Commerce Clearing House Federal Tax Service at the start of his tax career. It is one of the leading tax services in the United States. He subsequently served with distinction for eight years in the Department of Justice as an Assistant United States Attorney for the Southern District of New York (which includes Woodstock) in charge of the trial, appeal and settlement of substantial tax cases for the government.

Conducted Course

For a number of years in New York City and Newark he conducted his Schulman Practical Federal Tax Course to lawyers, accountants and executives. He also lectured on "fraud cases" in tax courses of the Practising Law Institute of New York, nationally known for its practical post-graduate instruction to lawyers by outstanding practitioners in various branches of law.

During 1960-62, Schulman was chairman of the Committee on State and Federal Taxation of the Ulster County Bar Association. He was instrumental in that association's adoption of a resolution endorsing and advocating more equitable tax treatment for duly licensed self-employed lawyers, accountants, doctors, dentists and other duly licensed professionals in the state of New York, in the matter of retirement pension and profit-sharing plans, because of the serious tax disadvantage they suffered under existing law compared with proprietor-employees of business corporations.

Musical Background

Doman is a graduate of the Manhattan School of Music, where he met his wife, who is one of the few female drummers. A graduate of the school, she is a pupil of Paul Price, who gave a percussion concert in Woodstock last summer.

Doman is an accomplished musician who worked with such big bands as Charlie Barnett, Irving Fields, Gene Kardos and many others. After the big band era passed, he changed from pianist to accordionist and worked as a single entertainer, singer and master of ceremonies.

Doman, who works as a duo with his wife, has his own orchestra. This 12-piece band has been engaged to play for the anniversary dance of the Bronx High School of Science on May 25 at the Hotel Statler in New York. Many notables in government are expected to attend this affair.

The taxpayers association has mailed literature stating its aims and purposes and the town budget for 1963 to all Woodstock taxpayers. The response has been encouraging and many have joined. Anyone wishing further information may write to: The Democratic Club members approved the August date at their February meeting which was addressed by Assemblyman Jerry Kretschmer of New York at the Town House.

Plan Levitt Gift

In anticipation of a May appearance in Woodstock of Comptroller Arthur Levitt, the president appointed a committee of three persons who select an appropriate Woodstock gift for him. Mrs. Elise Twine is chairman of the committee which also includes Mrs. Rosalie Sheehan and Mrs. John Brown.

Plans for a stepped-up membership campaign were discussed and a township wide mailing will be under way in the next week. The club has set a goal of 300 members for the 1963 election year when a full slate of local offices will be determined.

In other action, the club endorsed the League of Women Voters' resolution proposed permanent registration and voted a donation to the Temple Emanuel Memorial Fund in the name of the late Henry Miller.

Unwise eating or drinking may be a source of mild, but annoying bladder irritations—making you feel restless, tense, and uncomfortable. Think tall.

The Volkswagen Station Wagon is only nine inches longer than the little VW Sedan. Yet it holds more than the biggest conventional wagon. How?

Perhaps this picture explains it. Ideally in a station wagon, you need maximum room and minimum length. The Volkswagen people have answered this with a taller car. (The entire top of the VW wagon is level. There isn't a wasted inch in it.)

This is why things that will not fit in any conventional wagon fit easily inside the VW wagon. An upright piano standing upright. A standard bridge table opened up. Eight adults with all their luggage. (Or, if you open the sun-roof, a huge, old-fashioned wardrobe.)

When you realize that the VW wagon is a good four feet shorter than a conventional wagon, you get the picture. You're "thinking tall."

(While you are, why not come in and drive a new VW wagon. And find out for yourself why so many people are "thinking tall," too.)

Units Serve Several Purposes

Await Nik's Next Move
In Cuba Troop Removal

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — If bird-watchers will now fix their attention on that wise old owl, Premier Khrushchev, they may see him try to feather his nest.

The Russians could probably embarrass Secretary of State Dean Rusk, who said Tuesday a Soviet presence in Cuba "cannot be accepted," if they asked him a simple question: What are you going to do about it?

No Clear Ideas Yet

At this time in the frustrated American government it is unlikely anyone has a firm or even clear idea how to force the Soviet troops out of Cuba or persuade Khrushchev to take them out.

He has promised to withdraw some of the 17,000 men President Kennedy says are on the island. But it's doubtful Khrushchev will pull them all out. They serve several purposes, one now and maybe others later.

Now—So long as they're on the island they discourage an anti-Castro invasion either by Cuban refugees, backed by the United States, or directly by American forces. An attack on Cuba would be an attack on them. It could mean war.

Later — The longer their presence frustrates Americans, the more Khrushchev may hope to make a deal: to remove them if the United States will do the same with some of its forces which are frustrating the Russians somewhere else.

Berlin is an example, although that would be a big price for the United States to pay for all its promises to defend the city.

For five years Khrushchev has been demanding the Allies remove their forces from Berlin which is 100 miles inside Communist East Germany and is one of the biggest Soviet blemishes in the cold war.

If Khrushchev pulled his troops out of Cuba—because of a deal on Berlin or somewhere else—it would mean leaving Fidel Castro fairly defenseless against invasion.

But it might be worth it to the Russians, particularly in the case of Berlin, since the East German Communists are far more important to Russia than the far-off Communists of Castro, a comparative handful.

Or — Khrushchev may wish to keep his troops in Cuba until he compels the United States—as the price for their removal — not to permit an invasion of Cuba, direct or otherwise.

Since Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has said the Soviet troops in Cuba are not a direct menace now to this country, and Castro certainly isn't, no invasion could be justified in world opinion.

This is particularly so since Khrushchev can argue:

K's Arguments

1. His troops in Cuba are not invaders. They're there by invitation of Castro who, whether anyone likes it or not, is the boss of Cuba.

2. The United States can hardly feel outraged by Soviet troops in Cuba when it has military forces around the edges of Russia and Khrushchev has never attempted any invasion to get rid of them.

When bafflement short-circuits the ego it can start a fire. The American ego, since the United States is the giant of the Western Hemisphere, is gigantic.

But this ego has been short-circuited by American bafflement over how to get both Castro and the Soviets out of Cuba. As a result, some Americans are now on fire and calling for action.

No action is in sight. The next move will probably come from Khrushchev. He may already have made some proposition to Kennedy.

Critical After Shot

A 26-year-old Poughkeepsie man remained in poor condition at St. Francis' Hospital that city, Tuesday afternoon, suffering from a .22 caliber bullet wound of the chest, which police Chief John L. Martin said was self-inflicted. Chief Martin said James Dutcher, of 45 Delafield Street, unemployed former Poughkeepsie post office worker and Harlem Valley State Hospital, Windale, employee, told police he shot himself at his home. Police said Dutcher's father, Michael, who resides near the home of his son, found Dutcher after the shooting and notified authorities.

Worker Killed in Fall

CORTLAND, N.Y. (AP)—Lindsey C. Ellis, about 40, of Media, Pa., was killed Tuesday when a scaffold collapsed and he fell to the bottom of a half-million gallon water tank on which he was constructing a roof.

The tank, about three miles west of this city in Central New York, is part of the water-supply system of the Town of Cortlandville.

FROM STAR TO STABLE—U.S. Agriculture Dept. research engineer H. C. Liu, left, holds a large 20-ray star he made for his family's Christmas tree. The star, known geometrically as a radiant icosahedron, gave Liu the idea for a new kind of farm building. The shape of the building is a modified icosahedron, shown in a model, right. It's constructed by bolting five diamond-shaped panels to a pentagonal base. The frame is filled in with a flexible lattice-work, then covered with a spray-on plastic material and finished with a weather-resistant coating. The covering adds little weight to the structure, as a regular roof would, and increases its strength as a conventional roof would not. Such buildings would be useful for storage bins, livestock shelters or dwellings.

Justice to Fight Removal Ruling In Federal Courts

NEW YORK (AP)—A State Supreme Court justice ordered removed from the bench for "unethical conduct" in an ambulance-chasing investigation says he will fight the decision in federal courts.

The State Court on the Judiciary, created 15 years ago to hear cases against judges, handed down the order Tuesday in Albany against Justice Louis L. Friedman of Brooklyn.

Friedman said afterward he had instructed his attorneys "to take this case to the U.S. Supreme Court, if necessary, to vindicate me. The court's findings are wrong."

Friedman added: "I have done nothing to be ashamed of and I have done nothing wrong...I will fight to get my reputation back. All I'm fighting for is my reputation, not for a job as such."

The court on the judiciary, comprising six jurists from the state's higher courts, ruled 4-2 against Friedman.

The majority found that Friedman had interfered with an investigation into ambulance-chasing by withholding records of his lawyer brother, Malcolm, and had violated the canons of judicial ethics by his actions in helping to settle an accident case after he became a justice.

Phone Man Runnerup

GENEVA, N.Y. (AP) — Hobart College officials recently requested the New York Telephone Co. to remove a pay telephone from the wall at one of the college buildings to allow some remodeling work.

Someone saved the telephone company the trouble.

When a company representative arrived to do the work, the telephone, and an estimated $50 it contained, had already been removed.

Malcolm Friedman was suspended from practice as a result of the ambulance-chasing inquiry.

Friedman, 56, has challenged the constitutionality of the Court on the Judiciary. He contends it functions as both prosecutor and judge.

His salary as a justice was $34,500.

Capital News In Brief

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republicans have challenged the Democratic leadership to clip the wings of Rep. Adam C. Powell, Democrat from New York.

They want to see $200,000 cut from the budget of his House Committee on Education and Labor, and a code of ethics established in Congress to curb his nightclubbing in foreign capitals.

Seven GOP members joined in the latest attack on Powell, taking the House floor Tuesday to criticize his travels, the spending of his committee, and the granting of $250,000 in federal funds for a juvenile delinquency project in his Harlem congressional district.

The attack on Powell, a rarity in the House, which prides itself on its rules of courteous debate, was launched by Rep. John H. Ashbrook, R-Ohio, a member of Powell's committee. Powell was not present and none of the 30 or 40 Democrats present spoke up.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The young intelligence specialist who conducted the television briefing on the Cuban missile situation is about to get a $1,500 a year pay increase.

It was learned today that Defense Department officials have approved promotion for John T. Hughes, 34, special assistant to the chief of the Defense Intelligence Agency.

Only some paperwork at the Civil Service Commission remains to be completed before Hughes goes up in pay from $14,500 to $16,000 a year.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Manned

spacecraft of the future may be simpler to navigate, thanks to Mariner II.

Donald W. Trask of the Jet Propulsion Laboratory, Pasadena, Calif., a Mariner Project scientist, says the impressive ability of stations on earth to track a spacecraft, as demonstrated with Mariner, will greatly reduce the demands on computers aboard the space vehicles.

Trask told a news conference Tuesday that precise two-way radio tracking of Mariner during its 129-day flight to Venus and beyond provided the basic data that will help refine the physical measurements that apply throughout the solar system.

YOUR RED CROSS

In a matter of days it will be time to start getting the money up again for the American Red Cross.

This is a kind of assistance the American people have never flinched from giving. With annual Red Cross expenditures running close to $100 million, the need for funds obviously is greater than ever.

No one has to be reminded of the invaluable services the agency performs for the armed forces and their veterans, for the relief of Americans stricken with a variety of disasters from floods to hurricanes, for the development and maintenance of blood donor, nursing, safety and other volunteer programs.

But this year, marking the 100th anniversary of the first meeting in Geneva, Switzerland, at which the Red Cross idea was taken up, may be a fitting time to give a little more thought to our Red Cross international services.

Most noteworthy recent evidence of that effort was the collaboration of the American Red Cross in the collection and shipment of $53 million worth of medical and other supplies to Cuba in the exchange deal which freed 1,113 Bay of Pigs prisoners and thousands of their relatives.

Many other kinds of "foreign aid" have been extended by the agency. Disaster relief has gone to Korea, Burma, South Viet Nam, British Honduras, Brazil, Greece, West Germany, Yugoslavia, the Philippines, Indonesia, the Somali Republic, Tanganyika, the Congo, Togo.

Our own Red Cross also helped the League of Red Cross Societies and the United Nations in repatriating 200,000 Algerian refugees after the war in Algeria ended in that province's independence.

Technical assistance to other Red Cross societies was offered on a rising scale. In the Panama Canal Zone, representatives from half a dozen Central American nations gathered for "Gray Lady" nurses' training courses.

About 300 of the 3,600 U.S. chapters engaged in "international activities" within their own communities. They offered service, training and hospitality to students, visitors and new U. S. residents from other countries.

The American Red Cross, therefore, is truly an agency for international aid—but one which even the stoutest critic of government foreign aid would not think to criticize.

In this work, as in all its other proven enterprises, the Red Cross in 1963 again merits your most generous financial support.

Khrushchev has been kind of quiet lately. Probably saw that TV program about his rise to power and is embarrassed to show his face.

FREEDOMS ROLL-CALL

The theme for the third annual Freedoms Roll-Call is "Help Plant the Seeds of Freedom." The Roll-Call is a period dedicated each year to an intensive campaign to reinvigorate all Americans in the spirit of free enterprise and the ideals of our Founding Fathers.

Most Americans pride themselves, and rightly so, on being a free people. Freedom, we tell ourselves, is part of the great heritage of America, a proud distinction which sets us apart from other nations less favored.

Is there not, at times, just a touch of smugness, of complacency in our attitude? Do we not, perhaps, sometimes take our freedoms too much for granted?

Today, with the free world beset on all sides by the freedom-killing forces of Communism, should we not reexamine our attitudes, and ask ourselves what we as individuals are doing to preserve our freedoms?

It is not easy for the average individual to know what, specifically, he can do to help. However, there is an organization dedicated solely to the task of preserving America's freedoms and one of its functions

'These Days'

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN
CRAZY LIKE A FOX

Whether there will be a new labor crisis in steel this coming Spring is a question. But as the leaders of the United Steelworkers union mull over their chances for wringing new concessions from the steel companies, they must be reflecting on a queer irony: Roger Blough, who was a scorned and derided figure last year when he was forced to back down on the matter of a price rise, now looms up as a farsighted man. He has made it tough for the steel union to make out a plausible case for any hefty increase in wages or benefits for 1963.

Even Mr. Blough's conservative friends were guilty of kicking him a year ago after President Kennedy had told him off. They talked pityingly about his "blunder" in public relations, his poor sense of "timing." "Roger Blah of U. S. Putty" was the phrase that William Buckley's conservative National Review pinned on him for alleged pusillanimity in failing to stand up in the face of Kennedy's withering blast.

It seemed to cross nobody's mind during the furore and hullabaloo that maybe Mr. Blough, in establishing the point that the steel industry needed profits in order to keep its plant up to snuff, was putting his company and his industry in a good bargaining position for future crises in labor relations. My own impression of Roger Blough, gained from past journalistic encounters with him, is that he is a cutie, a "phony hick" in the description which Arthur Krock once applied to a writer who pretended to a wide-eyed innocence in order to lure people into boastful confession. Not so long ago I went to see Mr. Blough on an assignment: I was supposed to find out what the United States Steel Corporation was doing to combat the workings of Parkinson's Law of bureaucratic "empire building" as it applied to ambitious department heads in the steel business. I got no good answers to my questions for the very reason that Mr. Blough had no intention of admitting that there was any departmental featherbedding in U. S. Steel to counteract. Mr. Blough was a shrewd man, all right; before the interview was over he was trying to interest me in a story about the inequities of Minnesota State tax law as it applied to the mining of iron ore on the Mesabi Range.

Since Mr. Blough knows his own industry, he could not have been really sanguine last April that a price rise could have been made to stick for very long. No business that is operating at a good deal short of capacity will refuse to shade its prices in order to attract customers. When machinery is standing idle, the stated—or "administered"—price is one thing, and the actual price at the moment of dealing is another. Mr. Blough is just as much aware of this rule of competition as any man alive.

So the scheduled steel prices would probably have been broken even if President Kennedy had kept a civil tongue in his head. Nevertheless, the gesture on the part of U. S. Steel, Bethlehem and other companies was worth the making. In the first place, it succeeded in calling wide attention to the fact that the industry must find some valid method of financing the modernization of decrepit manufacturing facilities. Once he had turned thumbs down on higher steel prices, President Kennedy could hardly refuse to listen to the corporations' plea for a more lenient depreciation policy, and some ultimate relief from the 50 per cent tax on corporate profits.

Beyond this, Mr. Blough accomplished another thing: he put the United Steelworkers union in a bad position to ask for a big wage increase this year or next. Should the Kennedy Administration seem about to sanction a general wage increase in steel for 1963 or 1964, it would certainly be assailed with loud cries of favoritism. When Kennedy refused to countenance a rise in steel prices, he based his decision on a general stand against inflation. He can hardly shift his ground this year without risking the charge of inconsistency, mental dishonesty, and craven truckling to the labor vote. And it is no less a person than Roger Blough who has managed to tie the President's hands.

A yodel, this Roger Blough? Would that you and I could be so clever.

Avoid Taking Medicine Without Doctor's Approval

The impact of the news that thalidomide, once hailed as the perfect sleeping pill, if taken early in pregnancy frequently caused malformation of the developing baby, has led the medical profession to re-examine the possible effect of other drugs on the pregnant woman.

Many drugs are known to pass readily from the blood of the mother to that of the fetus. An extreme case was that of a pregnant woman who was narcotic addict. Shortly after the baby was born it became very sick and was shown to be suffering from the agonizing withdrawal symptoms of narcotic addiction.

One of the more common hazards results from the prospective mother taking vitamin K, used to check hemorrhage. Dr. Mervin Silverberg has found that one of the more serious forms of jaundice and possibly anemia in the newborn may be caused by vitamin K. This type of jaundice is not to be confused with the commonly seen jaundice of the newborn that clears up spontaneously.

Anticoagulant drugs, to prevent the formation of clots in the veins, may pass into the infant's blood stream. If after birth a small blood vessel ruptures, the baby may have a serious hemorrhage.

Curare, the powerful poison once used by Indians on arrowheads, is used in small doses as a muscle relaxant in certain convulsive states. This and drugs of similar action taken during pregnancy may relax the muscles of the fetus and prevent the normal kicking movements. It has been found that such interference may result in club-foot and possibly other deformities.

Less serious is the effect of antithyroid drugs taken by the mother. Her baby may be born with a congenital goiter, but this usually disappears without treatment a few weeks after birth. Many other drugs have adverse effects on the newborn. For this reason it is essential that a prospective mother avoid taking medicine of any kind without the knowledge and approval of her doctor. He can see that she uses only drugs known to be safe.

Q—Is there such a thing as a 10 or 11 months baby? I have heard of such but I just don't believe it.

A—The exact duration of pregnancy cannot usually be determined, but it can be estimated to within a few days. There is good authority for a pregnancy lasting 320 days or a little over 10 months. Because such a prolonged period of gestation is likely to result in an unusually large baby and cause a very difficult labor, doctors usually do not allow pregnancy to proceed so long.

Q—How many days elapse between conception and birth? Is it possible to have a menstrual period and be pregnant at the same time?

A—The usual duration of pregnancy is about 280 days but a variation of about 20 days more or less would not be unusual. When the implantation of the fertilized ovum in the wall of the uterus occurs, menstrual periods stop. Any bleeding that occurs after this should be investigated.

Washington News

BY PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — NEA — The Kennedy administration wants people to quit calling it "medical care for the aged," or "medicare." Congress defeated that last year, so please forget it.

The new name, presented in the President's whopping big special message to Congress on "aiding our senior citizens," is "hospital insurance."

WHAT THEY SHOULD call it is "back to Methuselah."

Requested therein are 36 different programs, some being repeats from earlier messages on health, taxation and aid to education.

Taken together, these programs to aid the aged would cost an estimated $9.8 billion over the next five years.

All are designed to make old age not only less painful but also more comfortable, enjoyable, welcome, well-fed, well-housed and even profitable.

The President points out there are now more than 10,000 living Americans over 100 years old. But if Congress buys all the plain and fancy packages in this message, the number of centenarians should zoom into the millions. There will be no reason to die. Old age will be too pleasant.

WITH ONLY MINOR MODIFICATIONS, the President asks for the same compulsory health insurance under Social Security that he has wanted all along.

Its cost to the individual would be one-quarter of 1 per cent on the first $3,200 of income—to be raised from $4,800, beginning Jan. 1, 1965—$13 a year for both employer and employee. It's cheap insurance for the working years. The health benefits after retirement would be many times its cost.

The new gimmick is that it will give the individual freedom of choice on three health care plans:

All costs for 45 days, all costs for 90 days after the first $90 of expenses, or all costs for 180 days after the first 2½ days' expenses. Thereafter the patient could get 180 days in a nursing home and 240 house calls by a visiting nurse for any one illness.

This would not immediately replace present medical care benefits to the indigent under the Kerr-Mills bill now adopted in 25 states. That law would not only be kept, but would be expanded to provide benefits to those obtainable under Social Security.

In addition to hospitalization costs of over $5 billion paid from trust funds, the complete plan would give the aged many other benefits, the new programs costing an estimated $626 million in five years. Here are high lights:

• To meet the housing needs of senior citizens, the President asks for $250 million for direct, low interest loans, with another $10 million earmarked for rural areas.

• States would be asked to pass new legislation to protect standards of rental housing.

• Additional employment opportunity would be sought, although it was only a few years ago that Social Security law was amended to permit earlier retirements and so reduce unemployment.

• A new senior citizens act would provide $142 million over five years to aid local communities in planning recreational facilities. Adult education and library services would be offered those who missed college.

• To provide better nursing homes, Hill-Burton construction grants of $30 million a year for five years are asked.

• Old age insurance benefits under Social Security would be raised from $127 to $134 a month for individuals, double that for families.

• The Food and Drug Administration would be given authority to test foods, medicines and therapeutic devices sold to the aged. This is a direct result of the report recently filed by a special committee under Sen. Pat McNamara, D-Mich., showing how the aged have been bilked by quacks.

• But this new back-to-Methuselah bill almost outpromises anything offered by the quacks.

The President's tax message, sent to Congress earlier, offers the aged a tax cut. The present $300 tax credit would be repealed. But individuals could earn up to $5,788 a year without having to pay United States income taxes. The total tax reduction to the aged would be $790 million a year.

His Stock in Trade
"It is not unexpected that Mr. Powell has chosen such a convenient and demagogic refuge. Appeal to race and the drumming up of charges of bigotry have long been his political stock in trade. The fact is that a Negro in high office usually—right-

ties in planning recreational facilities. Adult education and library services would be offered those who missed college.

Powell's Cry of Racism Is Problem for Negro Leaders

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Critics who point out a lack of responsibility on the part of some of the Negro leaders in America are often called "Racists." Public-school teachers in Washington hesitate to discipline Negro students for fear of being called "Racists." The latest to decry criticism and attribute it to racial prejudice is Representative Adam Clayton Powell Jr., Democrat, chairman of the House Education and Labor Committee, who has been elected to Congress ten times by the Negro population of the Harlem District of New York City.

When Senator John J. Williams of Delaware, Republican, recently made a speech in the Senate charging that Mr. Powell was being shown favored treatment by the Administration and was not being compelled to pay up back taxes, the New York Congressman replied with a denunciation of Mr. Williams as a man guilty of race prejudice. It happens that the Delaware senator has voted in support of most all of the Civil Rights legislation introduced in Congress since he has been in the Senate.

Now comes the New York "Times" to take Mr. Powell to task for his statement. The record of the "Times" as a long-time champion of the integration movement is well known.

Comment from "Times"
The "Times" isn't being published in New York City because of the strike, but it continues to publish on the Pacific coast a 14-page edition, including an editorial page, every day. In the issue of last Saturday, the lead editorial was entitled, "Because He Is a Negro? It read as follows:

"After a soul-searching self-inquiry into why in the world he should be under criticism, Representative Adam Clayton Powell Jr., has come up with the complete answer: It is 'unequivocally' because he is a Negro.

"Nobody would be objecting to his long, outrageous record as a Congressional absentee; no one would have noticed his night-clubbing junkies to Europe; the presence of his wife on the Congressional payroll at over $13,000, while resident in Puerto Rico, would have been ignored, as would Powell's desertion of responsibility as a House Committee chairman in the midst of important hearings. All these possible explanations for displeasure by his colleagues and other critics including ourselves have no validity, Mr. Powell states. His only mistake is that he is not white.

"It is not unexpected that Mr. Powell has chosen such a convenient and demagogic refuge. Appeal to race and the drumming up of charges of bigotry have long been his political stock in trade. The fact is that a Negro in high office usually—rightly or wrongly—receives favored treatment, and is nearly exempt from criticism, in the press and elsewhere, unless his faults are so obvious that silence becomes intolerable. There is a general and laudable desire to see a Negro succeed when he has attained a position of public trust. Criticism is avoided for the very reason that it might be mistaken for prejudice. Now Mr. Powell has again raised the racial issue in a desperate gesture of self-defense.

"He is not alone in being criticized for junketing around the world on flimsy missions at the taxpayer's expense. He is not unique in being criticized for having a member of the family on the payroll—although it must be admitted that such employees usually have the good grace to stay on the mainland, at least.

"His philosophy of everybody-else-doing-it, why-shouldn't-I? Is, we suppose, a commonplace reaction of the most commonplace of politicians. It is disappointing, however, to see Powell—a spiritual as well as a political leader—not setting a better example. The tragedy of the long Powell career in office is that he, unusually gifted with intelligence, talent and personality, has chosen to be 'equal' with the least conscientious in Congress rather than the most.

"So, to vindicate himself and not be accused of 'running out' under attack, Powell said he has changed his mind and will not retire but instead will seek another term.

Really Bad News
"This is really bad news, for New York and for Congress."

There are other implications in the episode besides the political aspects. Here's a man who is chairman of one of the top-ranking committees in Congress — the House Committee on Education and Labor. Legislation in field of labor is highly important these days, and so are the many bills resigned to furnish federal aid to the states for the benefit of education institutions of all kinds. But Mr. Powell is frequently absent. Under the seniority system, he has been elected chairman and cannot be displaced except by a vote of his colleagues. They, however, are afraid to remove him because they, too, might be branded as having racial prejudices — a charge that could be intensified in local political campaigns.

Public opinion alone can force a change. But leadership of such a movement would have to come from the highly respected Negro leaders in the country. They could not be charged with racial antagonisms. In fact, they would vindicate the judgment of those who, like this writer, have always contended that patriotism and dedication to the public interest are not confined in America to the members of any race or creed or religion.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

This of course, is a mad Irish family. It is composed of professional detractors. One day recently, I walked into my brother John's house wearing a Tyrolean velvet hat with a feather in it. He extended his hand and said: "Hello Jim, Where's your bow and arrow?"

My mother believed that writing was nothing more than a nutty hobby. When I finished a book, she said: "Well son. If this one doesn't sell will you go out and look for a job?" I was 45 years of age and she was still giving me notes to hand to the grocer.

Last Spring, I bought a gold watch for my father in Hong Kong. It has a Swiss movement. It was priced so reasonably that my wife and I walked in and out of the shop on Cameron Road three times before we put up the money. We brought it home in a plush case. When my father saw it, he shook his head in wonderment.

"Beautiful," he said. "It's the most beautiful watch I've ever seen." It was something to look at. There were thirty jewels, and the watch not only told the time of day, it also told the day of the week and the date of the month. It looked like an alarm clock on his wrist.

"You can't use two watches," my brother John said. "Can I have the old one?" My father shook his head. "It didn't take you long to figure that out, did it?" he said. Johnny got the old watch. That turnip only told time. The new one did everything but cook the breakfast.

"Now," my father said, "let me get one thing straight. This thing not only tells time, it also gives me the day of the week and the date. Suppose I forgot to wind it?" Well, I said, there must be some way of adjusting it. "Okay," he said. "How?"

I took the watch, pulled the stem out a little, and turned it. Nothing happened. I pushed it all the way in and turned. Nothing happened. "Here," he said. Give it to me before you break it." He took it and gave the winder a few turns and, in a moment, it was giving us the wrong date, and the wrong time.

My father began to study Johnny as though he was going to ask for his old watch back. We fiddled with the new watch for an hour, and finally got it to tell the right time, but we couldn't get it to say Wednesday the 12th not matter how hard we tried. When we got it to show Wednesday, it gave the date as the 14th. When we got the date right, the day was Monday.

The watch lacked imagination. Also a calendar. My father fooled with the thing a few days, and finally got the right date, the right day, and the right time, except for one thing. The watch was busted. So he brought it to Nick Napoli's jewelry store and said: "Nick. Fix this thing, will you? I'll wait."

Napoli took a look and said: "If you're going to wait, you're going to be here a long time. I don't think I ever saw this make of watch before." My father said his son had picked it up in Hong Kong. Napoli nodded. "We may have to send it back there to fix it," he said.

The jeweler sent it to New York. New York sent it to Switzerland for a new part. The part took time. Weeks went by. My father was watchless. Every time he passed my brother he said: "How's the old turnip doing?" Fine, Johnny said. Just dandy.

The watch came back and it told the correct time, the day of the week, and the date. "This thing is okay," my father said, "if nobody touches it. One touch and it's out of business." So all he did was wind it. He said it's the only watch in the world which requires 80 winds each morning and still feels loose.

One night he found the watch slow, so he moved it ahead to a point after midnight. At once the day and the date changed, and now he had the right time, but the watch was on tomorrow. He began to glare at me and mutter under his breath. We tried to get it back on the rails, but when we got the correct day and date, the hour was wrong. So it went back to Napoli. He tried. The stem winder was bent. The watch was sent to New York, and then to Switzerland and weeks later, it was back on my father's wrist.

Everything is fine right now. My father shows it to his friends with a little scorn. "Wanna see my Chinese watch?" he says. "It tells Chinese time."

I don't mind. But I think I'll avoid him for the next week or so. I just looked at the calendar and February has only 28 days. On the first of March, his watch is going to read "Friday" Feb. 29th.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Personal debts have been rising much faster than the national debt. But the rate has slowed down in the last year or so—just as has the rate of economic growth.

And many advocates of a big federal tax cut now hold that this would lead both consumers and business to spend more and incline them to borrow more. Together spending and borrowing would act as a tonic to the rate of general economic growth.

All Conjecture
All of this is conjecture. No one can be sure what people will do with any federal tax saving. They may spend it all. Or they may increase their rate of savings which has been going up of late. Or they may use the federal income tax saving to pay all the various other forms of taxation which have been going up and seem likely to continue on that path.

Total private indebtedness was $140 billion in 1945. In five years it jumped 79 per cent, in the next five 60 per cent, and from 1955 to 1960 it went up 45 per cent. In the last two years it has risen 15 per cent to $672 billion.

Chief reasons given for the slowing of the rate were smaller gains in home building, in business spending for new plant and equipment and in going in hock for consumer durables.

The federal debt has risen since 1945 at a comparatively slow rate

Matter of Fact

The ancient counterpart to the modern "confidential newsletters," supplied to businessmen and others, was written as early as the fifth century B.C. in Rome by writers who furnished news to those who resided at a distance from the capital. Written newsletters continued to be employed to supply intelligence to businessmen and political leaders until long after the invention of printing.

© Encyclopaedia Britannica

from $259 billion to around $304 billion. State and local government debts have risen much faster.

Expect Deficit to Rise

The U.S. Treasury is now running a deficit and expects this to increase. But the debt rise will still be moderate if compared with the growth of the economy as a whole. Output of goods and services is now running at around $563 billion a year.

And while consumers have been busy running up a huge total of debts, they also have been building a huge total of savings in various forms.

Commercial bank savings deposits have soared, partly because of the inducement of higher interest rates. So have funds in mutual savings banks. Savings and loan associations report the trend is continuing this year. Life insurance companies are taking in more premiums. Credit unions report gains. Even the total invested in U.S. savings bonds climbs in spite of the competition with other forms of saving that pay more.

But beyond the generally accepted forms of savings, the public has been putting increasingly large sums into various forms of personal security, some private and some public.

Together these are now taking in about a billion dollars a week, the Institute of Life Insurance figures. It notes a steady increase in the amount flowing into life insurance and annuities, into health insurance and into corporate pension funds. These private forms of personal protection took in $11 billion in 1950 and more than $27 billion last year.

So while debts of all forms have risen over the years, so have savings and the programs to secure against future needs.

SATELLITE LIBRARY—Mrs. Phyllis Timleck of Ottawa, Canada, files a reel of magnetic tape among a small library of tapes stamped "S-27." That is the code designation for the "Alouette," Canada's first satellite. Launched on Sept. 28, 1962, atop a U.S. rocket, "Alouette" has recorded enough information about the earth's ionosphere to fill 400 miles of magnetic tape sent in by 14 tracking stations around the world. It has orbited 1,200 times for a total travel of 35 million miles. After processing at Ottawa, Alouette's scientific data will be made available to scientists of all nations.

Two From Naval Station Killed in Crash of Plane

LEXINGTON PARK, Md. (AP)—Two men from Patuxent Naval Air station were killed when a private single-engine plane crashed and burned alongside state route 5, just south of Great Mills Monday night.

Police said the plane took off just minutes before the crash on an apparently unauthorized night flight from an unlighted private air field at Park Hall, about a mile to the south.

Richard Leon Kubran, 22, Ft. Johnson, N.Y., and Edward M. Hankins, 27, of Lexington Park were killed.

Kubran and Hankins were sailors assigned to Patuxent Naval Air Station.

Police said Kubran and two other men owned the plane. It crashed in a cleared area at the end of the roadway. Police said it clipped off the top of a tree before crashing in a ball of flame.

A passing motorist reported he tried to pull the passengers from the flaming wreckage but was driven off by the intense heat.

Better Education

The changing American way of life is reflected in the 1960 census figures, which show that children are going to school at an earlier age and staying in school longer than ever before. Median school years completed in each state ranged in 1960 from a high of 12.2 in Utah to a low of 8.7 in Kentucky and South Carolina.

Empire Builders

They came with bundles on their heads, babies in their arms, hope in their hearts.

They yearned for the promise of America. Its abundance. Its youth. Its golden opportunities. Its respect for freedom.

For some, this remained only a dream. For many more, a growing America did prove a land of opportunity. For America needed them, too.

No one man; no small group of men built America. Laid its tracks; mined its coal; tilled its fields; built its skyscrapers. No one man transformed a vast, undeveloped land into an example for the world.

It took millions. Tens of millions to build America. Many hands. Many nationalities. Many religions.

America owes much to these empire builders—a priceless debt.

The garment industry throughout the United States is great precisely because of the contribution of these people of many skills, races and creeds.

They may be Irish, Negro, Jewish, Italian, Hungarian, French, Spanish, Polish, Russian, English; or Methodist, Presbyterian, Jewish, Catholic, Baptist or even agnostic.

One thing many have in common: their membership in the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union—one of America's great unions which recognizes no minority groups within its ranks. No second class citizens. Everybody pays the same dues; enjoys the same rights and benefits. All anyone ever wants to see is your membership card—not your pedigree.

Through their union, the 450,000 members of the ILGWU—80% of them women—enjoy fair wages, good working conditions and many other benefits. This progress has not only helped ILGWU members and their families. The union's influence has helped raise standards of working and living throughout the entire community, contributing to the welfare and happiness of people in all walks of life, as well as the nation itself.

The ILGWU label, sewn into ladies' and children's garments, is the signature of these 450,000 working people. It is the signature of workers who, through their union, have achieved fair standards, the dignity of a voice in their own conditions of employment, and a position of respect in their communities.

Look for that label the next time you shop for women's or girls' apparel.

It is your guarantee that the clothing you buy was made by skilled craftsmen in a shop reflecting the best American standards and traditions.

Fair Labor Standards and the American Way of Life.

NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.

Doubts Rocky's Fee Woes Will Hurt '64 Chances

HUNTINGTON, N.Y. (AP) — Sen. Thurston Morton, R-Ky., says Gov. Rockefeller's troubles over his proposed increases in various license charges won't hurt his national stature.

Rockefeller has been under attack from Democrats and some Republican legislative members because of his plan to boost license rates. His critics have been especially harsh regarding his proposal to hike auto-registration charges.

Morton said Tuesday night that he thought the trouble Rockefeller is having is more in the Republican governor's favor than against, as far as his national stature is concerned.

Rockefeller, a potential contender for the Republican presidential nomination in 1964, has long favored a "pay-as-you-go" financing and young people in the country are displeased with deficit financing.

He spoke at the annual Islip Town Republican Committee dinner.

Sees Additional Integration for Poultry Industry

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Agriculture Department's economic service predicted today that the nation's poultry industry faces further integration of production, marketing and processing in the absence of what it called national poultry programs. "It is possible," the report said, "that the industry will become increasingly integrated into a relatively small number of large-scale poultry meat manufacturing firms. These firms would combine feed manufacturing, broiler production, and broiler processing stages."

Agricultural integration, which is opposed by many farm leaders, has made greater progress in the poultry industry than in any phase of farming.

The report also said organization of poultry producers into bargaining cooperatives might offset the trend toward greater integration.

Orange Woman Killed

NEWBURGH, N.Y. (AP)—Mrs. Doris A. Wolverson, 41, of nearby Coldenham, was injured fatally early today when she fell out the door of her car after it glanced off an oncoming auto on Route 9W near here.

She died in St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh, about an hour after the accident.

Held for Grand Jury

A Dutchess County grand jury soon will investigate the second-degree assault charge pending against Victor Tompkins, 31-year-old Poughkeepsie laborer, who is accused of beating and injuring his 21-month-old daughter. The defendant is in the county jail at Poughkeepsie. He waived preliminary hearing before City Judge Milton Haven.

New Egg Product Is Boon for Institutions

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — A new frozen egg product is providing faster, more nutritious meals in state institutions, Gov. Rockefeller reported today.

The pilot project, utilizing Grade A quality eggs, was a cooperative venture of the State Departments of Mental Hygiene and Agriculture and Markets.

The governor said tests indicated that the new product provided greater nutritional benefit, that egg dishes could be prepared in one-sixth the time needed to prepare shell eggs, and that patients ate more eggs than when served standard egg fare.

Identity Sought Of Fire Victim

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Police and fire officials sought positive identification today for the body of a man found under thick ice and debris at the base of an air shaft at the Howard Hotel, which was wrecked by a fire Feb. 7.

A fire official said the body discovered Tuesday, was believed to be that of Robert Adkins, 42, a truck-driver from Altavista, Va. Adkins was a guest at the hotel on the night of the fire and has not been accounted for since. His tractor-trailer was found parked near the hotel.

Arnett Yates, owner of the trucking company for which Adkins worked, was expected here today to help in the identification.

The body of William A. Lee, 59, of Syracuse, was recovered from the hotel on the night of the fire. The search for Adkins had been delayed by snow, ice, debris and the weakened condition of the 90-room, five-story building.

Another guest still has not been accounted for since the fire. He registered as Albert Welch of Little Falls, N.J., and was assigned to a fourth-floor room. Little Falls police say no one by that name lives in Little Falls and no residents are missing.

Jailed for Meat Theft

A 34-year-old Poughkeepsie man was sentenced Tuesday to six months in the Dutchess County jail in connection with the theft of meat from the State Star, a ship chartered by the Daystrom Electric Co., which was moored in the Hudson River last Aug. 16. Charles Edwin Palmatier, of 6 Hooker Terrace, Poughkeepsie, previously pleaded guilty to a reduced charge of unlawful entry. He was given credit for 19 days already served.

Returns Suicide Verdict

A preliminary finding of suicide has been returned by Dr. William Thompson, Rhinebeck, a Dutchess County assistant medical examiner, in the death of George Beaudry, 27, formerly of Highland, a patient at Hudson River State Hospital. Dr. Herman B. Snow, senior director at the institution, confirmed a report the patient plunged to his death Saturday from a second floor window in a hospital building.

Matter of Fact

There seems to be a running discussion about whether the people who live in cities are more or less neurotic than those who live in the suburbs and have to commute. Obviously, a city-dweller coined the word, "disturbia," a term which came into use last year which suggests the stresses of suburban life.

ETO Vet Listed As Speaker for Seminar in May

What is Geopolitics? Does it concern us? Why should we study geopolitics?

These questions and many others related questions will be answered by Col. Richard W. Dempsey, USA, in one of his lectures at the National Security Seminar to be held here May 6-17.

The complete presentation outline, which each person who registers for the Seminar receives, shows the broad scope of geopolitics. It covers the geographical and other elements involved in determining a nation's position as a world power. It evaluates the various geopolitical theories in relation to the emerging power pattern of the present day world.

Col. Dempsey will cover such factors as: Should we neglect social sciences because of the emphasis on scientific studies. It also includes a discussion of the elements of national power, foreign policy, expansion of the Russian heartland, the Arctic region and air power. A study of these subjects and others are all included in the field of geopolitics.

Programs and registration blanks are available at the Seminar headquarters in the office of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce in the Governor Clinton Hotel building. A total of 32 different lectures will be given at the National Security Seminar by six well qualified instructors, all on the staff of the Industrial College of the Armed Forces in Washington, D. C.

Col. Dempsey, was born in Kansas City, Sept. 14, 1919. He graduated from the Northwest Missouri State College in 1941 and immediately entered the military service. During the war years 1942-45, he served as a platoon leader, Company Commander, and Battalion S-3 with the 84th Infantry Division in CONUS and the European Theater. He was separated from the service in 1946 and entered the Graduate School of Political Science at the University of Chicago.

He was commissioned in the Regular Army later that year, and was assigned to the Army Medical Field Service School at Fort Sam Houston, Tex., as an instructor and later as chief of the Officers Training Branch.

Served in Japan

Following this assignment, he spent one year attending the Advanced Branch Course and a special course in Depot Supply Operations. He was then assigned as director of the Supply Division of the Army General Hospital in Tokyo, Japan. Upon his return from the Far East in 1952, he was reassigned to the Army Medical Field Service School as Chief of Staff and Logistics Branch. In September of 1957, he entered the Command and General Staff College and upon graduation in June 1958 was assigned as the Commanding Officer of the U. S. Army Medical Depot at Kaiserslautern, Germany. Returning to the United States in July 1961, he entered the U. S. Army War College from which he was graduated in June 1962. He is currently doing work toward a Master's Degree in International Relations at George Washington University. Decorations include a Bronze Star, Army Commendation Medal, Belgian Croix de Guerre with Palm and the Combat Medical Badge.

Can Stop Paying For Children to Unfit Persons

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller signed a bill today permitting public welfare officials to stop payments of aid-to-dependent-children benefits to parents or relatives who mismanage the funds.

The payments would be transferred to another person concerned with the welfare of the child.

Rockefeller said the bill was a change from the principle of aiding dependent children through payment of allowances directly to members of the family unit.

The change is to conform state law with 1962 amendments in the federal law and is to be used only in exceptional cases, Rockefeller said. The federal government supplies the funds for the aid-to-dependent-children program.

Two Gauguin Dramas

NEW YORK (9P) — Stage and screen versions of a drama about Paul Gauguin are being planned by Julian Lesser and Leon Barsha.

The script about the French painter has already been written by Norman Corwin, but is to get additional material from a Gauguin biography, "Noblesse" by Lawrence and Elizabeth Hanson. The book title has been tentatively adopted as the name of the show.

Plans call for a tryout tour on the West Coast next spring.

By SOPHIE MITLER

Warren M. Johnson, of Port Ewen, who conducts the local Port Ewen Sunday noontime radio program loaned me an interesting book. It covers the schools of New York State ending July 31, 1897, or the 44th annual report of the state superintendent, department of public instruction.

For instance one item in this March 28, 1898 published book reads in part: "Cost of maintaining schools increased more than 100 per cent in 12 years. Numbers of teachers employed increased more than 28 per cent, amount paid for teachers' salaries upped 55 per cent. Amount spent on school houses, sites, furniture and repairs has increased 270 per cent." In those days the average salary of a school teacher was $495 yearly.

They mention the observance and purposes of Arbor Day, but do not give a date. Where could we plant trees around our schools, as most of the area is covered with modern blacktop. In that report, they say, "During the year, 9,921 school districts of New York State, I take it) observed the day and 17,975 trees were planted on school grounds, making a total of 179, 785 in nine years. There is a growing tendency to beautify school surroundings, and to make school buildings more comfortable and attractive. A gratifying feature of the attention paid to Arbor Day is the encouragement given to pupils to study nature." That was printed in 1898. If those old timers could see our Grand Central Station school buildings in our smallest communities, they would never believe it. The buildings are only used some eight hours a day, while Grand Central Station never sleeps night or day or holidays.

More than a page is given over to "The Curfew" in this 1898 book, loaned to me by Mr. Johnson of Port Ewen. This item reads in part: "Over 300 cities and towns in the west have adopted the ordinance which requires all children under 15 years of age, unless accompanied by parents or guardians, or absent with leave, to be at home at nine o'clock in the evening in the summer and at eight o'clock in winter. The result has been a decrease of from 50 to 75 per cent in the number of arrests of children for crime."

This book further states: "Teachers report that boys who formerly were behind in their studies by reason of late hours on the street are more punctual and keep up with school work. There has been a reduction of from 50 to 100 per cent, in commitments of youth to reform schools. The curfew is regulated entirely by municipal ordinance, and no state laws on the subject have been enacted. . . statistics tell us that last year (1897) there were 179,000 arrests of children under 16 years of age. . . The steps of free night-roaming on the streets are clearly marked and inevitable; first, amusement; second, mischief; third, crime."

On page 390 Ulster County coverage begins, Kingston City, I see was in the first district. It seems we had five school houses, 84 full time teachers, 4,087 students attending, and for Arbor Day planted 20 trees in 1897 in Kingston. Some 92 trees were planted in the first district. In the report they felt the art work should be better in the first district and that "every school district should appropriate at least $5 for the purchase of books for the school library."

Aluminum is one of the most abundant elements in the earth's crust, being exceeded only by oxygen and silicon.

A heart specialist may save a life from 1,000 miles away—because of another kind of telephone service.

The electrocardiograph is a chart of heartbeats. Now, with DATA-PHONE service, heartbeats can be converted to electrical impulses, flashed over regular telephone lines, and translated into an electrocardiograph for a heart specialist thousands of miles away.

The specialist can study the chart while the heartbeats are making it, and provide quickly the expert diagnosis which may help to save a life. Of course, telephones are for talking, but there's a whole lot more than just talk on telephone lines today.

Chamber Opposes Proposed Hike in Registration Fee

NEW PALTZ—The New Paltz Chamber of Commerce at the recent meeting went on record as opposing legislation to increase the fees for automobile registration and fees for various professional groups which has been proposed by the Governor. Chamber members also discussed the Uniform Commercial Code, scheduled to go into effect in September, 1964, which provides for the filling of conditional sales contracts and chattel mortgages in county clerk's office and also, certain cases, in the office of the Secretary of State. The new law, when enacted, will remove the filing of these papers from offices of town clerks and city clerks, as now provided under the existing law. Members of the Chamber present at the meeting felt that this would place a hardship and inconvenience on some places of business, as they voted in favor of enactment of legislation to amend the code to return to filing of these papers with units of local government.

Also discussed was the project to re-broadcast television signals from the ABC network channel in New York City so that viewers in many parts of this area could see it clearly. This would be accomplished by means of a translator located on the mountain which would broadcast the signal over another channel not used in this area. Chamber President Walter Offerman said the chamber had been working on this project for some time, and he expressed hope that a test broadcast could be made in the near future. More information will be published when definite arrangements are made, he said. Other action by the chamber included decision to participate in the American Legion Trade Show in July, and an amendment

Faculty Tours Other Area School Systems

Mrs. Brita Reed, art instructor of New Paltz Central School, recently visited the art classrooms at Rondout Valley Central School. Two senior art students, Margaret Geiselman and LeRoy Thorn, accompanied her. The purpose of the visit was to see the physical facilities in order to plan for future expansion of the facilities at the Hasbrouck House.

John L. Wyman, High School principal, accompanied by mathematics teachers Miss Margaret Bjerklie and Michael Landes, also visited Rondout Valley Central School. In the course of the visit they observed the classes of Donald Gladstone, mathematics coordinator. Rondout has initiated a program of mathematics which begins with elementary algebra in the eighth grade. This allows the normal high school mathematics to be completed by the end of the junior year. During the senior year students are given a course in analytical geometry and introductory calculus.

The mathematics department at the central school is studying the entire area of secondary school mathematics for the possibility of curriculum changes in the local school.

Mrs. Mildred Bond and Mrs. Brita Reed visited Franklin D. Roosevelt High School, Hyde Park. The purpose of the visit was to observe the humanities course being offered there. They also had the opportunity to talk with W. E. Cady, music supervisor. Mrs. Bond and Mrs. Reed observed classes and brought back curriculum outlines. Both are enthusiastic about offering a similar course here.

Art Director Visits School

The art department of New Paltz Central School was recently visited by Vincent Popolizio, director of art of New York State. Mr. Popolizio spent most of the day observing the program and checking on present art facilities.

Although he found the Hasbrouck House, where the art department functions, was crowded and lacked facilities for storage of supplies and finished projects, he expressed pleasure in the growth of the department over the past few years. He commented favorably on the enthusiasm of the students for their work and on the variety of projects offered in the curriculum. He was especially pleased with the workshops which allow students to go into depth according to their individual interests and abilities. He commended the uniqueness of the program which, among other things, is able to take advantage of State University College here as a source of art consultation with professors of art, art exhibits and lectures on art.

Popolizio brought with him New York State plans for an ideal art room which includes separate rooms for junior and senior art and suggested that the school look into the possibility of planning to build an art room in the future. Students Leonard Robbins and Margaret Geiselman are working on floor plans which will include both fine and industrial arts areas.

Holy Name Society Plans Coming Events

The Holy Name Society of St. Joseph's Church announced an outline of activities for the remainder of the year at a recent meeting.

President Edward Lee reported that the immediate order of business was the Retreat to be held at Mt. Alvernia Seminary of the Franciscan Fathers at Wappingers Falls March 8, 9 and 10. He stressed that this spiritual exercise was not limited to men of the Holy Name but was open to all men of the parish. Reservations and information may be obtained from any officer or at the rectory.

Other plans were for a husband and wife dinner to be held at a restaurant in the area and a fund-raising activity to supplement the treasury of the organization.

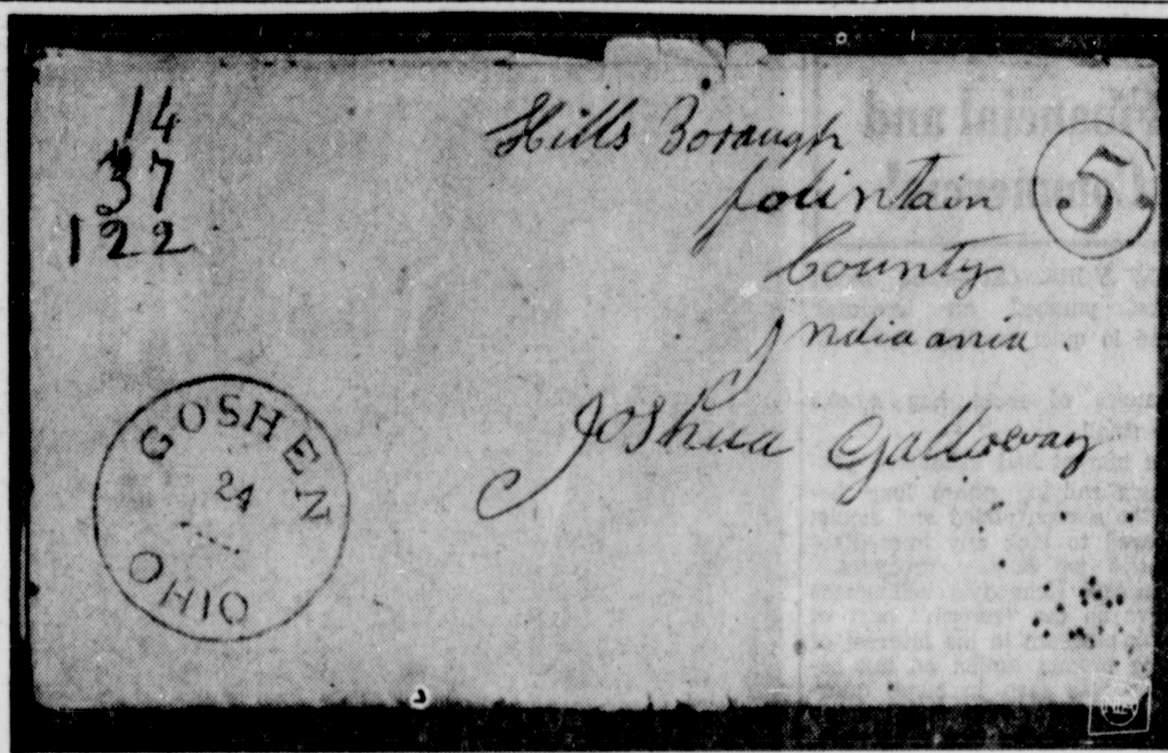

Two films, Africa, Continent of Promise and Strange Gods, supplied by the New York Propagation of the Faith were shown. These films presented a graphic picture of the vastness and the beauty to be found in this newly emerged land. Tribal customs and ceremonies of the natives proved to be most enlightening and instructive. Interspersed were scenes of the Catholic missionary work carried on by priests and Sisters who devoted their lives to the conversion of the natives.

Study Club to Meet

The New Paltz Study Club will hold its next regular meeting March 5 in the social room of the Reformed Church 2 p. m. The topic will be spring in Southern Europe put on by Miss Mary Carter and Miss Lucille Stephens. Reception hostess will be Mrs. Gerrett Wulschleger and refreshment chairman, Mrs. Robert Pyle.

City Police Are Participating in Juveniles Study

Kingston's police department, Chief Robert F. Murphy announced today, is participating in a nationwide study of police functions in juvenile crime in cooperation with the International Association of Chiefs of Police Inc.

The study, involving many police departments and thousands of individual officers in all sections of the nation, is being financed by the President's Committee on Juvenile Delinquency and Youth Crime. Local officers are being asked to express their views about pertinent aspects of the juvenile crime problem based upon their first-hand, on-the-spot experience.

The findings will be analyzed at the Washington, D. C. Headquarters of the International Association of Chiefs of Police. Submissions based on the experience of local officers will materially assist in clarifying the police role in what has become an increasingly serious problem throughout the country.

Preliminary examination of returns indicates that bad home conditions and incompetent or neglectful parents are more often than not at the root of the difficulty where repeating juvenile criminals are involved. A firm, "no nonsense" attitude on the part of police, coupled with proper discipline by responsible parents, has been found effective in straightening out youngsters who run afoul of the law. Chief Murphy said police have no desire to punish children. The police job is to prevent crime and to protect the lives and property of all citizens.

"Close cooperation between the police, the courts, the schools and other community agencies, and especially parents, is the key to effective action", the Chief said.

Strips Secrecy Labels of Polls On Foreign Views

By LEWIS GULICK
WASHINGTON (AP)—After prodding by Congress and the press, the U.S. Information Agency has finally stripped the secrecy labels from some of its polls of public opinion in other lands.

But any bitter taste of controversy had been aged out of them. All are at least a year old.

How did some of the foreign countries regard President Kennedy? In January 1961 the net favorable opinion of the polls ranged from 92 per cent in Lima to 34 per cent in New Delhi. The net opinion of Soviet Premier Khrushchev ranged from plus 53 per cent in New Delhi to minus 68 per cent in Saigon.

All in all, newsmen were handed 34 studies sampling foreigners' views on such subjects as Fidel Castro, American women, the U.S. library at Battambang, radio listening in Taiwan and you-name-it.

The findings had little current news impact. USIA offered to show its polls of previous years, too, but had no immediate takers.

USIA Chief Edward R. Murrow called the policy of releasing the polls "a significant departure" and promised to make more polls public but not until they are at least a year old.

The agency says the reason for delay is to avoid releasing the polls while they are still fresh enough to damage U.S. foreign relations, for instance by embarrassing the government where the poll was taken.

The new USIA policy was announced by Rep. John E. Moss, D-Calif., after an inquiry by his House Government Information Subcommittee. Moss hailed the action as a step for freedom of information.

Under the new system, Murrow said USIA will: (1) Supply its polls to congressional committees and ask they keep the material secret; (2) Make public after one year its polls classified "for official use only" and after two years those stamped with the higher classification "confidential."

Findings of Poll

February 1961—Urban opinion of Castro in seven Latin American countries ranged from 3 per cent rating him "very good" in Argentina to only 1 per cent in Mexico. The Cuban prime minister ranked "very bad" with 16 per cent polled in Mexico up to 40 per cent in Peru. Those never having heard of Castro ranged from 1 per cent among Venezuelan city dwellers to 86 per cent among Brazilian country folk.

September 1960—Western Europeans have a not favorable opinion of women's activities in the United States. Some Europeans admire American women for their vitality and independence. Others call them bad housewives and domineering.

December 1960—Montevideo's esteem for President Eisenhower rose after his visit to Uruguay but the image of the United States as a friend of Uruguay declined.

Flu-Like Illness

tinuing its slow move westward across the nation.

"The latest and about the only recent trend is westerly," said a spokesman at the U.S. Public Health Service's Communicable Disease Center in Atlanta.

The CDC said outbreaks of influenza-like illness have been confirmed in 29 states and the District of Columbia. Asian flu has been confirmed in the District of Columbia and 17 states, including Kentucky, whose health department reported late Tuesday that the Asian virus had been isolated there.

Brighter Report
On the other hand, school authorities at St. Louis said absenteeism is declining. City health officials noted a drop in hospital care for flu patients.

North Carolina officials said Asian flu cases are increasing in the western portion of the state and decreasing in eastern sections. About 2,000 new cases were reported Monday and there are indications the 5-week-old epidemic will hit a peak this week.

Treasury Receipts

WASHINGTON (AP)—The cash position of the Treasury Feb. 21: Balance $6,960,188,287.41; Deposits fiscal year July 1 $65,879,471,908.32; Withdrawals $78,584,387,481.64; Total debt $394,355,784,537.19.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market pursued an irregular course in quiet trading early today.

Changes of most key stocks were small.

The market had exhausted yesterday's rallying phase long before the session ended and stocks appeared to lack any immediate incentive for further progress.

President Kennedy's willingness to give up the "reform" part of his tax program in the interest of getting prompt action on tax reduction was seen in some quarters as a factor that might delay rather than speed tax legislation.

Motors were scrambled despite the largest mid-February car sales since record 1955. Steels were unchanged to easy.

Small gains were posted for tobacco and mail order-retails. Boeing gained a fraction in continued response to its award of a $419 million space age contract. Douglas Aircraft also rose fractionally. United Aircraft eased.

World News In Brief

ELISABETHVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Armed clashes erupted between Katangan police and central government troops during Tuesday night and at least two soldiers and a policeman were reported killed.

The central government's resident minister, Joseph Ileo, said Katangan police ambushed 40 central government soldiers after a Katangan gendarme had been arrested and shot trying to escape. Ileo said no United Nations forces were involved.

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP)—Iceland has ordered two Soviet diplomats out of the country, charging they tried to spy on the U.S. air base here.

The government said the two were exposed by a disillusioned member of the Iceland Communist party. The Soviet Embassy denied the charges against the second secretary, Lev Kisilev and an attaché, Lev Dimitriev.

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru wants to double India's defense spending this year to meet the Red Chinese threat.

The government expects to earmark about $2 billion for the armed forces in the year beginning April 1.

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)—Hungary's Communist government says its candidates took 98.9 per cent of the votes in last Sunday's election of a new parliament and local councils.

The government ticket was not opposed, but voters could vote against candidates.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—The Dag Hammarskjöld Memorial Fund will be used mainly for a training center for civil servants in developing countries, the fund's international board has decided.

Plans for the center are still indefinite, but it is expected to be in existence by the end of 1964. About $1.2 million has been raised so far, $350,000 from Americans.

Taxpayer Information Available by Phone

To obtain quick and accurate federal tax information, just pick up the telephone. Local District Director Edward J. Fitzgerald Jr. announced today that telephone service has been expanded this year.

Special telephone lines are open from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. Monday through Friday.

Just pick up the phone and call the local office at 59 North Front Street. There's little waiting except perhaps during the lunch hour when most calls come in.

Use of telephone service helps both the taxpayer and the Revenue Service, Fitzgerald added. It's free from interruption and distraction and best of all, the taxpayer doesn't have to wait in line to get his tax information.

35-Hour Week Is A Symbol Way of Drawing Attention to Idle

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The shorter work week is more a symbol of organized labor's genuine concern over continuing high unemployment than an immediate goal.

The steady clamor for a 35-hour week is a way of drawing attention to the fact that the idle rate has been stuck at over 5 per cent for more than five years—meaning five out of every 100 workers can't find jobs.

The Real Aim

What AFL-CIO leaders actually want, they made clear at a 10-day session concluded here Tuesday, is a full-employment, full-production economy. They feel it will take drastic government action to get it.

They propose a deep tax cut along with more public works and other forms of deficit spending to increase purchasing power and demand for goods and services.

The 35-hour work week is another available tool, but the labor leaders probably recognize that opposition expressed by President Kennedy and the seeming disinterest in Congress make this a dim prospect now.

If unemployment should take a sharp upward jump—and the AFL-CIO leaders fear a fifth post-war recession is an early probability—the groundwork carefully prepared by labor for the 35-hour week may suddenly pay off in a burst of new political support.

Not All Agreed

The labor leaders are not entirely agreed among themselves on the best way lawmakers should legislate a shorter work week.

Walter Reuther, president of the United-Auto Workers, said he feels the 35-hour week may well be too sharp a cut for some firms and industries. He favors, instead, a basic 40-hour week that could be adjusted automatically according to economic changes.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, likes the straight 35-hour week approach. He said he isn't at all sure about Reuther's plan.

Sir John Cockcroft, British Nobel Prize winner in physics, says the United States acted wisely in canceling the Skybolt missile project.

Speaking at a meeting of the Dallas, Tex., Council on World Affairs and the English Speaking Union, he said: "I thought technically it was a very poor weapon. Many of us were glad to see the departure of Skybolt and the substitution of Polaris and Minuteman."

Dr. Stanley Gooch is going to join the residents of Tristan da Cunha when they start returning to their bleak, volcano-scarred island in the South Atlantic next month. Gooch, their British doctor, has not been able to settle down to life in England, especially Britain's socialized medical system, which he said has completely destroyed the relationship between doctor and patient.

He left Tristan da Cunha two years before volcanic eruptions forced its 260 inhabitants to flee to England in 1961.

Leon Goossens, world-famous oboe player whose career once seemed shattered by injuries suffered in an auto crash, said in London, England, that he hopes to return to the concert platform in April.

Goossens, 65, had 150 stitches in mouth wounds after the crash last year. He lost all his lower teeth.

Farm Labor May Top 1962 Force

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Labor Department predicted today the supply of labor available to agriculture in 1963 will be as large if not larger than in 1962.

The department said it does not expect much movement of workers from farm to non-farm jobs.

"While 1963 is expected to be a good year for business, the outlook is not bright enough to suggest much movement of workers from farms," a report said. "The level of spending by business, consumers and government may rise about 2 or 3 per cent over the 1962 level, but this is not expected to create enough new jobs to accommodate the growth of the labor force."

The department said there should be need this year for fewer foreign farm workers.

The department also predicted a further shift this year of operators of small marginal farms to the farm wage force.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING...

By ROGER E. SPEAR
Investment Advisor and Analyst
Continue to Add American Cyanamid

Q) "I am expecting the birth of a second child. When my first was born, we began buying shares of American Cyanamid and General Electric for her. Do you suggest continuing purchases in these stocks for our next child or should I invest in something with a little more growth, like Pfizer?" A.S.

A) I think your family is very fortunate indeed in having a prudent and far-sighted father. While I like both American Cyanamid and General Electric, I believe that the latter stock is selling at a relatively high price because of the present market's emphasis on big-name security. The yield is only 2 1/2 per cent and the earnings multiple is high. American Cyanamid seems to have entered a new period of growth because of rising volume and intensive cost cutting. I would continue to accumulate this stock. Pfizer is excellent but it is in drugs which account for a third of Cyanamid's earnings. For better diversification, I suggest in its place Corn Products.

Q) "I am perplexed as to how to figure on stocks. In a recent column you gave the yield on Maytag as 5 per cent. On my calculation, it is only 4.5 per cent. To figure yield, I always divide the dividend by the price. Am I right and if so, why do our figures disagree?" T.Y.

A) You are entirely correct in your method of figuring yields—dividing the indicated dividend by the price. Where you go wrong, if you will forgive my saying so, is in determining the rate itself. It is the usual practice in the financial business to determine the indicated dividend rate by adding extra payments to the regular quarterly rate. Maytag raised its dividend last September to 35 cents and declared a year-end extra of 20 cents. Thus, we call the indicated rate $1.40 (regular) plus 20 cents (extra) or $1.60. If you divided that by the current price you would reach my yield, rather than yours.

Mr. Spear cannot answer all mail personally but will answer all questions possible in his column.

No Links Allowed For School Smoke, Heat Detectors

A request of the education board to connect heat and smoke detection systems in schools with local fire headquarters was denied by the fire board Tuesday night in concurrence with the opinion of Fire Chief James M. Brett that connections should be permitted only with buildings equipped with sprinkler systems.

Members of the education board met with the fire commissioners to discuss the proposal. The education board, some time ago, indicated interest in connecting heat and smoke detectors with fire headquarters in Central Station as schools with sprinkler systems "are now connected, or are being connected."

Dr. Earl F. Soper, school superintendent, today revealed the result of Tuesday night's discussion. Five members of the education board attended the meeting, including Andrew T. Gilday, its president. Hugh Kirkman, the board's engineer in charge of making such connections, Richard McLean, superintendent of school buildings and grounds, and John Lodes of Perkins & Will, school architects, also attended.

Mantle Signs 100G Contract

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—Mickey Mantle signed his contract with the New York Yankees for $100,000 today, joining Willie Mays in the hundred-grand class.

Mantle's 1963 pay is about $15,000 more than he reportedly received last year.

The 31-year-old switch-hitter was named the American League's most valuable player and led the Yankees to the pennant despite a series of crippling injuries.

Mantle wound up with a .321 batting average and 30 home runs. Without him in the line-up, the Yankees sagged. With him they staged a stretch drive and won comfortably.

Three other greats of the game earned $100,000 in one season. They were Joe DiMaggio, the old Yankee Clipper, Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox and Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Yankee officials, in a statement signed by co-owner Dan Topping and General Manager Roy Hameyer, said they were glad to pay Mantle $100,000 and hoped that other Yankees in the future would be worth as much.

A number of the Russians head for a large waterfront warehouse which appears to be used as a food depot. It is constantly under guard by uniformed Cuban soldiers and Russians in mufti.

Convoys of tank trucks, driven by Russians, come in from the west and disappear in the direction of the oil refineries, across Havana Bay. Other caravans, with backs tightly shrouded in canvas, frequently lumber westward, probably toward the port of Mariel, 34 miles distant.

The attitude of the Cuban toward the Russian varies. Militiamen, soldiers and students approach them readily and engage in an active exchange of sign language. Others do their best to ignore them.

JFK May Name Charyk to Head Satellite Firm

By JOSEPH E. MOHRBAT
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy was expected to announce today the selection of Undersecretary of the Air Force Joseph V. Charyk to head the new U.S. commercial communications satellite firm.

Charyk, balding 42-year-old son of a Canadian railroad worker, will take over a post that carries a salary of at least $100,000 a year, say sources close to the Communications Satellite Corporation.

Although he declined to comment Tuesday night on advance word of his selection, his excited wife, Edwina, gave the story away to a newsman with: "Oh, my goodness! That was supposed to be announced by the President tomorrow!"

Friends of Charyk—a recognized master in the field of high speed flight and jet propulsion—said he is tremendously excited over the impending task.

That task is to create a federally sponsored but privately owned company to launch—via space satellites—a commercial communications business. Congress approved it last year. The firm was incorporated Feb. 1.

A native of Canmore, Alta., Charyk gathered engineering and physics degrees from the University of Alberta and California Institute of Technology. Two years after winning a doctorate at Caltech, he became a U.S. citizen in 1948.

Plan for Cayuga Sugar Beet Farms Gets 1st Approval

WASHINGTON (AP)—A plan for commercial production of sugar beets in Cayuga County to give the area's economy new vigor had tentative approval today from the U.S. Agriculture Department.

The department announced preliminary approval Tuesday of a sugar-beet allotment of 56,000 tons for the county. Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman said final approval of the allotment would be based on field studies to be conducted in the area this summer by the Area Redevelopment Administration.

Rep. Samuel S. Stratton, a Schenectady Democrat who represents the area in which the beets would be grown, said that, if final approval were given, the area could begin to produce sugar beets commercially in 1966.

The Cayuga County Redevelopment Area Organization had asked the federal government for the allotment in hopes of reviving an industry that once thrived in the area. They estimated that it could add $12 million a year to the area's economy.

The planners had hoped to begin commercial production of the beets in 1965.

Sugar - beet allotments for domestic producers are controlled by the Agriculture Department under the 1962 sugar act.

Stratton said that, because Cayuga County is an area of substantial unemployment, the Area Redevelopment Agency would contribute 65 per cent of $20 million it is estimated will be needed for a refinery and equipment if final approval is given.

In the test this summer to determine the area's capability for production of sugar beets on a commercial scale, the redevelopment agency will contract with farmers to grow 100 acres or more of beets, Stratton said.

He added that the government would provide seed and the planting and harvesting equipment and also would buy the crops.

Ziegfeld Restored

NEW YORK (AP)—Restoration of the Ziegfeld Theater as a playhouse for stage shows after seven years of use as a television studio cost $250,000.

Owner Billy Rose said the sum was spent on renovating backstage areas, the auditorium and redesign of public lounges. Rose previously warned that the theater, built in 1927, may continue in operation for only about two years. After that the site may be taken over for a skyscraper office building.

Where Vienna Coup Was Born

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Around 1860 an English writer proposed a whist problem with the story that the greatest player in Vienna had looked at the cards and remarked: "Why, of course, South makes all the tricks."

None of the whist players of the day could see how the grand slam could be made and the hand has given us the name of the Vienna Coup for all similar plays. It is a classic among bridge players.

In whist clubs were trump and South would lead. In contract I have made South declarer at no-trump and, while it does not matter what card West opens, I have assumed a heart lead.

South wins in dummy and runs off four clubs. West cannot afford to throw a diamond or a

Rejects 1-Mile Newburgh Spur To Road System

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The State Public Works Department said today its federal counterpart had rejected a request that a one-mile Newburgh spur be added to the interstate highway system.

The state said the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads had notified it that mileage was not currently available for additional interstate routes.

The State Public Works Department had requested designation of an interstate connection between Broadway in Newburgh and Interstate Route 84 at the north end of the city.

The designation would have made construction of the spur eligible for 90 per cent federal aid.

Latest Development By International Now Available For All Homes HOT WATER ELECTRIC HEAT WITHOUT PLUMBING

For years, safety engineers and heating researchers have been seeking a medically approved method of room heating that is both safe and economical. One that would provide steady, even warmth where it is needed, without wasting heat on ceilings, and cold floors. This kind of heating has finally been perfected! International Electric Hot Water Heat.

A New Concept in Electric Heat Discovered!

The unit itself consists of a copper tube in which an electrical heating element warms a special permanently sealed-in water and antifreeze solution. When the water is heated, it automatically circulates through the copper tube. At the exact moment the desired room temperature is reached, the automatic thermostat cuts off the current—but the hot water circulating through the length of the unit continues to release heat without cost, while maintaining comfortable warmth.

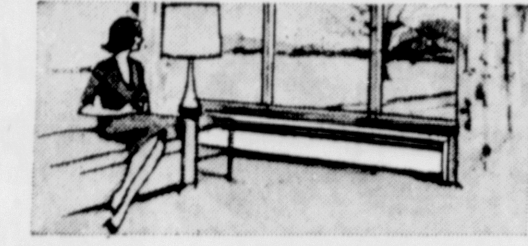

Each individual unit is a complete self-contained permanently sealed-in heating system in itself there's no water to add or fill over. Units are designed in slender casings only 3 1/4" deep x 9 1/2" high, in lengths up to 5 ft. for every heating requirement. All that's needed is installation is to place the size heater required beneath the window in each room where the heat is needed. You simply plug portable models into any 110 volt outlet—set the built-in thermostat to the temperature desired and you're in business. For permanent installation, your electrician merely connects heater to electric circuit with a thermostat on the wall—and you have hot water heat at its finest—with split degree precision room temperature control, comfort, cleanliness, safety and economy never before possible with the finest central hot water heating systems, at a mere fraction of the cost!

TO DETERMINE HEATER NEEDED

Use simple chart below for determining heaters needed for supplementary heating, or total heating of properly insulated room. Then add sufficient heater length to equal combined width of windows and outside doors. Portable 110 volt models have thermostat built-in with cord ready to plug into any 110 volt outlet and operate. Permanent 220 volt installations however, require special wiring, with extra wall thermostat, by your electrician.

Cu. Ft. of Room	Model Heater	Length of Heater	Portable Models	Permanent Models
750	750	5 Ft.	$ 89.95	$ 149.00
1000	1000	5 Ft.	$ 99.95	$ 179.00
1500	1500	7 Ft.	$104.95	$ 184.00
2000	2000	9 Ft.		$110.00

There is a softness about the warmth that International hot water electric heat gives. It has a luxurious, natural feel which you sense immediately upon entering a room. It can't use up the room's oxygen and natural moisture. It cannot produce the overdryness which is the bane of "exposed coil" heat, or the parched dry air that some heat gives.

HEALTHIEST... International circulating hot water electric heat gives you the kind of controlled, overall warmth doctors recommend.

SAFEST... Place your finest drapes right over this amazing heater without the slightest danger. More important, children and pets can't be harmed.

ECONOMICAL... Balanced, steady warmth even when the current cuts off. When room reaches the desired temperature, the automatic thermostat cuts off the current and circulating hot water continues to maintain constant comfortable warmth, saving money.

You must come in and see for yourself one of the most remarkable advances in home heating ever achieved by the heating industry. Bring measurements of rooms, plans of home, and let us discuss your heating problem with you. You will discover why International Hot Water Electric Heat can give you the healthiest winter living comfort you've always hoped for.

spade on the last club so must unguard the hearts as the least of all evils.

Then South makes the Vienna Coup play. He plays his ace of spades and establishes West's king as the top spade. Incidentally, dummy will have dropped a diamond on the third club and either a diamond or spade on the fourth one.

Now South runs off dummy's last four hearts and discards the queen of spades and two diamonds from his hand. West has to hang on to the king of spades because of dummy's jack and must discard one of his three diamonds whereupon South finesses the diamond and makes three diamond tricks.

Says Flaws Hard to Disguise

Bobby Not Suited
For White House,
Gore Vidal Feels

NEW YORK (AP)—Playwright Gore Vidal says Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy will be the Democratic candidate for president in 1968 but "it will take a public relations genius to make him appear lovable."

He also says the attorney general "would be a dangerously authoritarian-minded president."

Personal Friend of JFK

Vidal a personal friend of President Kennedy, says in an article in Esquire magazine that the President will be re-elected in 1964.

Vidal, a resident of Tarrytown, N.Y., grew up for a time in the same Virginia home with the President's wife. They had the same stepfather.

Gore is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Vidal. Mrs. Vidal subsequently was married to Hugh Auchincloss, who later was married to Jacqueline Kennedy's mother, Mrs. John Bouvier.

Vidal, a Democrat aligned with the liberal wing of the party, campaigned on the Kennedy platform in 1960 when he unsuccessfully ran for Congress in New York's 29th District, which includes five counties in the Hudson River Valley.

In the magazine article, Vidal says of 1968:

"There is no doubt that when Bobby goes before the convention in '68 he will seem beautifully qualified—and from the point of view of sheer experience he will be qualified."

"But there are flaws in his person hard to disguise. For one thing, it will take a public relations genius to make him appear lovable. He is not."

None of Brother's Ease

"His obvious characteristics are simpleness and about human motives which may yet bring him down."

"To Bobby the world is white or black. They and us. He has none of his brother's ease; or charity."

The article says that while President Kennedy is perfectly suited to the office brother Robert is not.

A spokesman for Robert Kennedy in Washington said there would be no comment by him on the article.

Exciting Week

Nigeria Will See
Dick Tiger in
Fullmer TV Bout

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP)—This is an exciting week for the television viewers of Nigeria. They will see their favorite star — Dick Tiger, the local boy who retained his world middleweight boxing championship Saturday night in a draw with Gene Fullmer. Fight films will be shown on the country's one station.

Robert Myers, a vice president of NBC International, currently is stationed in the African nation, helping the Nigerian government establish a television facility. At the moment it consists of the broadcasting station and some boosters to carry programs to three provinces—and a total about 10,000 sets.

Familiar Pattern

But even so, Nigerian tastes this early in the experiment in mass communication follow a familiar pattern. Next to Tiger — whose previous fight, shown a few days later on the station, sold a lot of television sets—the most popular programs are reruns of our own best-loved shows, like "Gunsmoke" and "Rawhide."

Children adore any cartoon program. Everybody is fascinated by sports—most of all rugby — although Myers is going to try some baseball soon.

In fact, it all sounds like early American television.

Andy Williams has been signed by Dinah Shore's sponsor for a series of eight NBC specials next season. They will be seen Tuesday nights, mixed in with Telephone Hour shows and news programs by Chet Huntley and David Brinkley. Dinah is taking the season off.

Mike Wallace has been hired by CBS News, and will start work the end of March, reporting and commenting on both radio and television shows.

ABC plans a special half-hour program, "Marilyn Monroe," on March 24. It is also interested in a second, hour-long special on the same subject later in the season. Recommended tonight: "Self-Portrait," premier, CBS, 7:30-8 (EST)—Presidential press secretary Pierre Salinger is interviewed in the first of a new series.

Feeding Trough

The huge pouch on the underside of the pelican's bill serves as a built-in feeding trough for its young. The baby birds pick their heads into their parent's open mouth to gorge on the partly digested fish which the older bird passes from its stomach back up into the pouch.

Gas Companies
To Pass $683,200

Columbia Gas serves the Binghamton area of Broome County, Otsego, Allegany, Limestone, Watkins Glen, Montour Falls, Dundee, Deposit, Hancock, Walton and adjacent areas.

The refunds generally will be made during the next 12 months.

New Yorkers
In Washington

By JOSEPH R. COYNE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two New York House members, including Rep. Adam C. Powell, Manhattan Democrat, had relatives on their payrolls last month, House records showed today.

The other was Rep. John R. Pillion, Buffalo Republican, whose daughter, Mrs. Charlotte P. Gile, was paid $178.25 during January. Powell, criticized recently for keeping his wife on his payroll, paid her $1,091.11 during January, records made public by the House Disbursing Office revealed.

Familiar With Area

Pillion's office said Mrs. Gile went off the payroll Jan. 31. Although she now lives in New Hampshire, some office paper work was sent to her during January for handling during January. Powell, familiar with the Buffalo area her father represents, a Pillion aide said.

She also worked for her father before her marriage several years ago. Pillion paid his top aide, Russell A. Rourke, $1,044.08 during January.

There is no legal bar against nepotism—the placing of a relative on the payroll.

Eight New York congressional aides received during January the top salary a House member is permitted to pay to any one of his office staff—$1,279.14 per month. They include Helen B. Gladwell, aide to Rep. Frank J. Horton, R-Rochester; George T. Caffrey, aide to Rep. Clarence E. Kilburn, R-Malone; F. Gibson Darrison, aide to Rep. William E. Miller, R-Oleott; Francis X. Kilroy, aide to Rep. Leo W. O'Brien, D-Albany; John T. Calkins, aide to Rep. Howard W. Robison, R-Owego.

Salaries of Others

The top salaries paid by other New York House members during January included:

Will Examine Future

Rensselaerville, N.Y. (AP) — The "shape of things to come" will be examined in this mountain-top hamlet of 350 persons.

Dr. Everett H. Clinchy, former president of the National Conference of Christians and Jews and a resident of this Albany County community, has organized a summer program for adults wishing to study "Man and World Tensions" and "Science and Man's Changing Environment."

The faculty will include ambassadors to the United Nations and outstanding educators, he said, and classes will be in the Village Hall.

Why We Say--

2-27 LOVE BIRDS

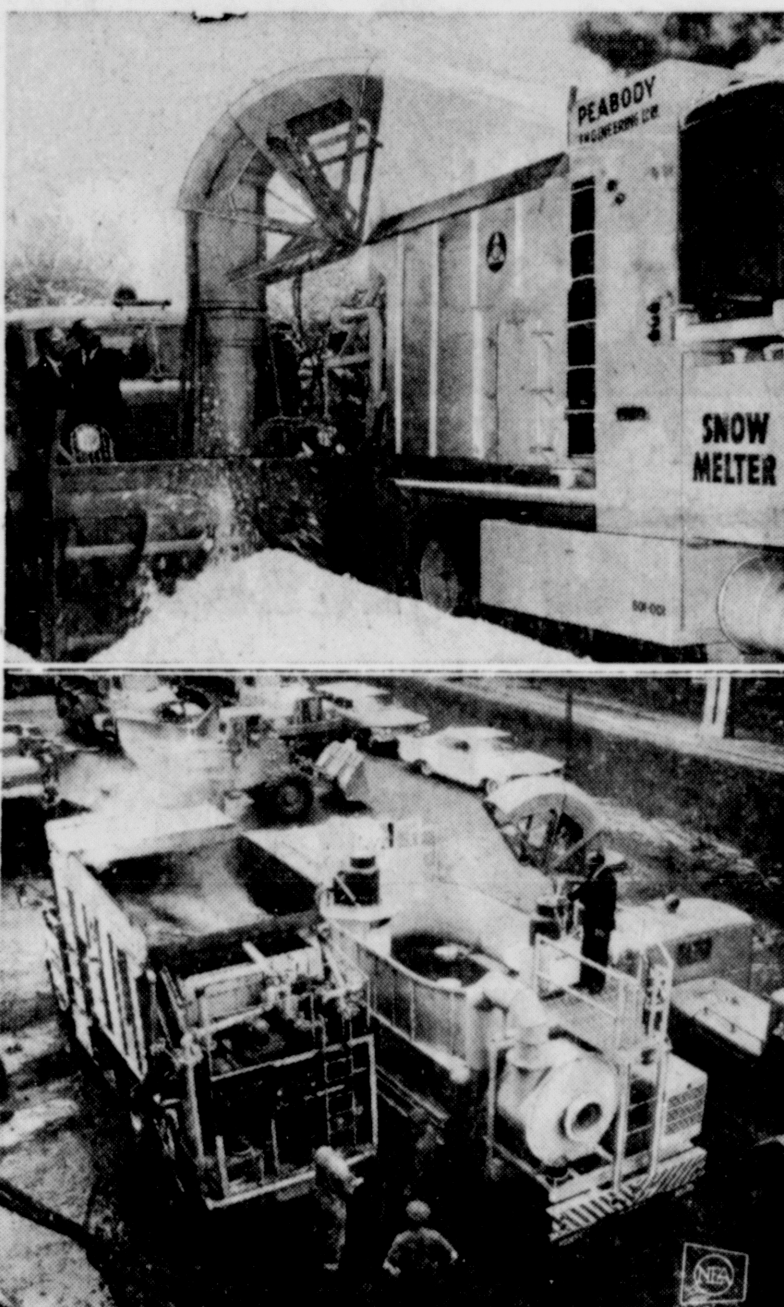

CLOSE TOGETHER: We call humans "love birds" because of their resemblance to a species of small parrots (psittacula or agapornis) found in South America and Africa. These birds are noted for the fact that they perch in pairs very close together.

MARCH 12, 1888—Only a corporal's guard of old, old timers is around to recall the great Blizzard of '88, but that phrase has become part of the vocabulary in making comparisons of severe winter weather. Rare, old photo, above, shows how snow piled along one of Manhattan's elevated lines when two vast weather systems collided Monday, March 12, 1888. Advance forces of the white invasion began sifting down the evening before. New York city seemed to be the focal point of the storm. By noon on Monday, New York was snowbound. Snows in Connecticut and western Massachusetts measured upward of 40 inches. More than 200 ships were sunk, damaged or blown ashore during the storm. Hardest-hit area extended from Washington, D.C., to Maine, and from New York to Pittsburgh, according to National Geographic records. By Tuesday, the blizzard abated and, by the end of the week, the Great Blizzard of '88 had made an all-time place for itself in the realm of "I remember when."

PUTTING THE HEAT ON SNOW—Soft, white, fluffy snow is a lot of fun—to kids. To community officials, however, it's just a big headache, especially when it comes in the quantities that have plagued most areas of the U.S. this winter. Cities are striking back. In New York, for instance, where the snow removal bill has gone as high as $7 million in one season, the sanitation department is turning to oil-fired, self-propelled snow melters to dispose of the white stuff. Top photo shows snow being gobbled up and discharged into a melter. Overhead view of two melters, bottom, shows what happens to the snow. Turned to water, it is simply flushed into storm sewers.

Jersey Renewing
Efforts on N. Y.
21 Drinking Age

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—New Jersey renewed today its efforts to convince New York to raise its minimum drinking age from 18 to 21, in conformity with neighboring states.

Gov. Richard S. Hughes and New Jersey legislative leaders and aides were to meet with Gov. Rockefeller, Sen. John J. Marchi, R-States Island, chairman of the Joint Legislative Committee for Revision of the Alcoholic Beverage Control Law, and other legislators.

Marchi's committee has recommended an identification card system for out-of-state youths, rather than raising the age.

Cantinflas in Style

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexican film comic Cantinflas, one of the highest-paid entertainers in the world, lives in a style the Hollywood of old was accustomed to but can no longer afford.

He's reported to own six automobiles, a yacht, and a twin-engine airplane. What's more, he has four homes, including a ranch.

Set Off Chain Reaction

Recalls Reichstag Building
Fire 30 Years Ago on Feb. 27

EDITOR'S NOTE—Thirty years ago today, the Reichstag building in Berlin went up in flames, setting off a chain of Nazi crimes against the world. On hand was a veteran AP correspondent who is now chief editor of The Associated Press' German language services in Europe. This is his story.

By RUDOLF E. JOSTEN

BERLIN (AP)—It was a fantastic sight. The huge glass dome of the Reichstag building was aglow.

There was a sudden explosion and the glass cupola burst into fragments. Flames shot into the wintry sky. Sixty fire engines raced to the blaze. Hundreds of police and brown-shirted Nazi storm troopers encircled the area.

Marked by History

The time: about 10 p. m. Feb. 27, 1933.

History books mark this as the incident the Nazis used to unleash their reign of terror that led finally to millions of dead in World War II.

Since that date, no German Parliament has sat in the Reichstag building. The Nazis used another building.

War wrought further damage. The old Reichstag has become a symbol of the cold war which divides Germany, prevents the formation of an all-German Parliament and keeps Berlin from regaining its status as capital of Germany.

Today, the Reichstag stands within yards of the Berlin wall built by the Communists who now occupy half the old capital and half of Germany.

Ignored Press Pass

That night the storm troopers refused to let me through although I showed my press pass. "I'm sure they set fire to it themselves," said a voice behind me as tens of thousands gathered to watch the blaze.

Black limousines drove up. I saw Adolf Hitler, propaganda chief Joseph Goebbels and Hermann Goering.

Four weeks earlier Hitler had been appointed chancellor by the aging Reichspresident, Field Marshal Paul von Hindenburg and Hindenburg.

The Nazis were not yet firmly established. In the elections in November 1932, they had lost two million votes. Their seats in the Reichstag had been cut from 230 to 196; the Communists were the biggest gainers.

With the next general election just one week away, the fire could not have been timed better for the Nazis. Hitler called it the signal for a nationwide Red uprising. Hundreds of Communists were thrown into jail, many beaten to death or shot.

Marinus van der Lubbe, a 24-year-old Dutch worker and independent Communist, was arrested inside the burning Reichstag. He told police he had no helpers in setting the fire. Within days, Ernst Torgler, parliamentary leader of the Communist party, and three Bulgarian Communists were arrested and charged with plotting the fire.

Van der Lubbe was sentenced to death by guillotining. Torgler and the three Bulgarians were acquitted for lack of evidence—courts had not yet been completely Nazified.

Scores of books have been written about the fire. Some contend that Van der Lubbe was a Nazi stooge.

Heard Goerings Boast

Ex-Col. Gen. Franz Halder, former German army chief of staff, said after the war he heard Goering boast of having laid the fire.

Three years ago, Fritz Tobias, a German amateur historian who interrogated all survivors, theorized in a widely discussed book that Van der Lubbe acted alone and was a latter-day Guy Fawkes who wanted to alert the world to the Nazi danger.

While the Nazis blamed Communists for the fire, most historians believe the Nazis started it. I am convinced the fire was laid by the Nazis.

One week after the fire, the Nazis polled 32 per cent of the popular vote in a general election. The Nazis were on their way to their "1,000-year Reich" which collapsed in the ruins of war in a little more than a decade.

Puzzling Wounds

NEW YORK (AP) — Cases of more than 300 "stigmatics," persons with unexplained bleeding wounds similar to those of Christ at the crucifixion, are recorded by a French physician, Rene Biot, in a new book, "Enigma of Stigmata," published by Hawthorne Books Inc. He explores the possibilities that the phenomena either result from neurosis or from some extraordinary spiritual effects.

Bill Still Alive
On Railroad Fees
For Trailer Loads

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The Assembly has rejected a bill that would have outlawed a Teamsters Union plan to collect a set fee for each truck-trailer shipped by rail, but the measure still has a chance of passage.

A coalition of Assembly Democrats and Republicans turned down the bill Tuesday by an 80-62 vote, but the sponsor, Assemblyman Richard J. Bartlett, R-Warren, then tabled the measure. The action means that he may bring it up for reconsideration later.

The Teamsters recently negotiated a contract under which shippers are required to pay a $5 fee to the union for each truck-trailer moved by railroad flatcar — or "piggy-back."

The money goes into the union's welfare fund, presumably to be used to aid truck-drivers who lose work under the piggy-back arrangement.

Railroad labor unions and management organizations oppose the fee and had urged the Legislature to approve the bill to outlaw it.

No Hope for Life on Surface of Venus

800-Degree Heat Is Report, Dark World of Sandy Desert

By JOHN BARBOUR
AP Science Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — On earth's dead sister, Venus, it must be a lonely, dark world of dry, sandy desert with 800-degree heat. And above, always the burden of heavy, nearly waterless clouds.

Such was the grim picture scientists gave Tuesday from the reports of radar contact from earth and the close-up look by space-exploring Mariner II.

There was certainly no hope for life on the surface if the temperatures indeed were 800 degrees Fahrenheit—200 degrees higher than the melting point of lead, nearly 600 degrees higher than the boiling point of water.

But perhaps up above—in those dark clouds, there was still a chance for some simple form of life. National Aeronautics and Space Administration scientists said.

Radar beams aimed at the planet from earth—while Mariner was heading for its rendezvous last Dec. 14—seemed to feel out a sandy or dusty surface on Venus.

Two Factors for Heat
That doesn't preclude the possibility that there are molten pools or lakes on the planet, too. The intense heat on Venus is caused by two factors—the nearness to the sun, and probably to a greenhouse effect.

Just as the panes of glass in a greenhouse admit sunlight but keep in heat, so is the heat retained on Venus—probably by carbon dioxide in the atmosphere. The clouds probably shield Venus' surface from some of the sun's radiation. To a person standing on the surface, there would not be too much difference from the sunlight to the dark side of the planet.

Radar encountered a bright spot—just 7 o'clock on the disc it observed, and near the center. This bright spot might be a surface feature of some kind—perhaps a mountain or ocean.

Strange Break in Clouds
Mariner, in flying by at 21,000 miles, also found a strange break in the uniformity of the clouds that shroud the planet. That was a sudden and definable cold spot in the clouds near the planet's south pole. It might also mean that some large surface feature lies beneath, a scientist speculated, perhaps a mountain.

As for the clouds, they might range from 45 miles above the surface of the planet to 60 miles at their highest. The clouds are likely a sort of smog—a layer of condensed hydrocarbons, a scientist speculated. So the space agency panel of scientists, reporting on Mariner II, gave an epitaph to the idea that earth and Venus were twin sisters in space. They are similar in size, and neighbors in space, but there the similarity ends.

Lenten Season Is Ushered In Today For Christians

NEW YORK (AP) — Ash Wednesday ushered in the Lenten season for Christians around the world today.

The 40-day period of fasting and penitence—with Sundays excluded—will end on April 14, Easter, the most joyous holiday on the Christian calendar.

Christ's days in the wilderness, his Crucifixion and his days in the tomb are highlighted in church observances.

Roman Catholics, Orthodox church members, many Episcopalians and members of some other denominations today receive from their priests and pastors a cross of ashes marked on the forehead. At many of the observances, the faithful are reminded: "Remember, man, that thou art dust and unto dust thou shalt return."

During Lent, contrition and self-denial are stressed as repentance for the sins of mankind.

Christians of many denominations are urged to perform positive acts of devotion, to attend church services, to take communion, to read, to meditate, to give to others—in time, money and labor.

MICROCOSM—The best things come in small packages, at least in the field of electronics today. Complicated circuit visible in viewing screen above is an enlargement of the tiny object held in tweezers by an RCA Laboratories technician. The circuit is made of "solid-state" elements, designed to combine the best properties of transistors and vacuum tubes. This particular circuit will go in a computer.

Lefkowitz Bars Okie Oil Firm, Seeking Records

NEW YORK (AP)—State Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz announced today he is seeking to study the books and records of an Oklahoma oil lease development in which he said investments of about $250,000 were made by residents of New York and neighboring states.

He said he has obtained a State Supreme Court order directing the promoters of the Cabez Petroleum Corp. of Oklahoma City, to testify and produce their books and records in the State Supreme Court April 12.

The attorney general, however, has no authority or powers outside the state and cannot force the promoters to come to New York.

He said the court order temporarily bars the corporation and its officers from selling securities in New York State, pending final determination of the action.

Lefkowitz also said the corporation used high-pressure techniques to sell oil leases in New York City and Upstate communities but did not tell investors that it had lost $180,000 in a single year and had only $500 on deposit in a bank.

The corporation concentrated its sales promotion in New York City and Utica, Binghamton and Syracuse.

Sees Merger as Key

WASHINGTON (AP)—The New Haven Railroad has ended presentation of its case for inclusion in the proposed New York Central-Pennsylvania railroad merger with the statement that it would turn loss into profit. The Interstate Commerce Commission, considering the Pennsylvania Central merger, turns now to a series of hearings at eastern and midwestern points beginning March 14 in St. Louis. Final witness for the bankrupt New Haven Railroad was its comptroller, Hollis H. Coyle. He told ICC examiners Tuesday that the New Haven stands to lose $1,139,000 by the end of 1963. If included in the merger, he said, that loss would be converted to a profit of $4,106,000.

Heritage Trail Is Monday Club Topic

The regular meeting of the Monday Club of Saugerties was held at the home of Mrs. Joseph H. Rainear Jr. of 40 Finger Street. The Heritage Trail with Elizabeth Rainear was her topic for the afternoon.

Mrs. Rainear said that to her history has always been a fascinating study. The heritage trail began for Mrs. Rainear in Monmouth County, N. Y., where she was born and continued to Philadelphia, the Boston area, Lexington, Concord, Sudbury and Deerfield, Mass. In closing, she said, that we should be mindful of our heritage and the trust it imposes on us.

The next meeting of the group will be held at the home of Mrs. Gordon Keeley March 4.

SCOPE Discusses School Problems

The monthly meeting of SCOPE (Saugerties Committee On Public Education) was held on Monday night with discussion centered around the shortage of elementary classrooms in the district.

Virgil W. Detweiler, chairman of the organization, presented a series of charts showing how the present shortage of 12 elementary classrooms will increase to 24 within three years. Detweiler pointed out that his analysis did not include the junior and senior high school classroom shortage.

It was decided that the next meeting would be held March 19 at the Saugerties Savings Bank. The primary subject to be discussed at the meeting will be Factors Influencing Site Location. All interested citizens may attend.

Freshman Conference

Parents of freshmen at the Saugerties High School have been invited to a meeting Monday 7:30 p. m. in the auditorium of the school. The main purpose of the meeting, according to James Chase, guidance counselor, is to acquaint parents with the program offerings available in grades ten, eleven and twelve.

Since conferences will soon be held with ninth graders to plan their tentative schedule of subjects for the remaining years in high school, parents should be aware of courses offered and the requirements for graduation. Whereas in the freshman year most of the subjects are required, in the remaining years most of the subjects are either elective or pertain to the major sequence.

Students and parents together should choose courses very carefully in order that a student will have the proper preparation for future educational and occupational plans. Unless a person's program is planned wisely now, he may not be qualified later for advanced training or for an occupation he prefers.

Questions concerning types of subjects needed to meet admission requirements of advanced schools or for preparation for certain occupations will be answered.

Mrs. Richard Overbagh was named Woman of the Year by the Saugerties Camp Fire Girls at the annual mother-daughter tea Friday at the Saugerties Reformed Church. Mrs. Michael Piastro acted as mistress of ceremonies for the program presented by the girls who were hostesses at the evening event. What Camp Fire Means was presented by the girls of Mrs. Piastro's group; The Walking Song was given by Mrs. Clifford, Sherman's girls; A Fashion Show was presented by Mrs. Theodore Frelich's group and Mrs. Frank Ward and Miss Barbara Ward's group showed films.

Mrs. Roland Tonnesen was the guest speaker for the program. She told of her trip to Switzerland and showed embroidered linens and other items collected there. She presented Swiss chocolates to each girl in the audience.

Refreshments were served following the program with Mrs. Overbagh and Miss Newkirk serving at the tea table.

Once the list is filed in Albany, the department prepares summonses which are returned to the justice of the peace for processing.

Miss Marion Newkirk, town clerk said today, owners who have not secured 1963 licenses for their dogs should report to

Slezak's Writing, Lectures Equaling Success as Actor

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actors, like corporations, have found that it pays to diversify.

A large, living example of this economic theory is Walter Slezak, the Viennese bon vivant. He has financed the upkeep on his comfortable girth by branching out into two new fields with success that equals his achievements as an actor.

In Rawhide Visit
Slezak elaborated on his two new careers while on a brief visit to film a "Rawhide" segment for television. He came from the set wearing a middle-European gypsy costume, for lunch at the Tahitian restaurant.

"That is not the only anachronism," he said over his Cantonese lunch. "In the show, which is set in 1870, I am playing a Brahms rhapsody which was written in 1876."

The plot has the "Rawhide" boys coming across a gypsy caravan lost in the West, and I suspect that no one takes it seriously. Least of all Slezak, who maintains a light-hearted view of almost everything. Why not, when everything he touches seems to turn golden.

Take this book, "What Time's the Next Swan?" It happened quite by accident, when Jean Kerr relayed some Slezak jokes to Ken McCormick, chief of Doubleday. The two men had lunch one day and discussed a possible book. At the end, McCormick wrote out a check for $5,000 and told the actor to start writing.

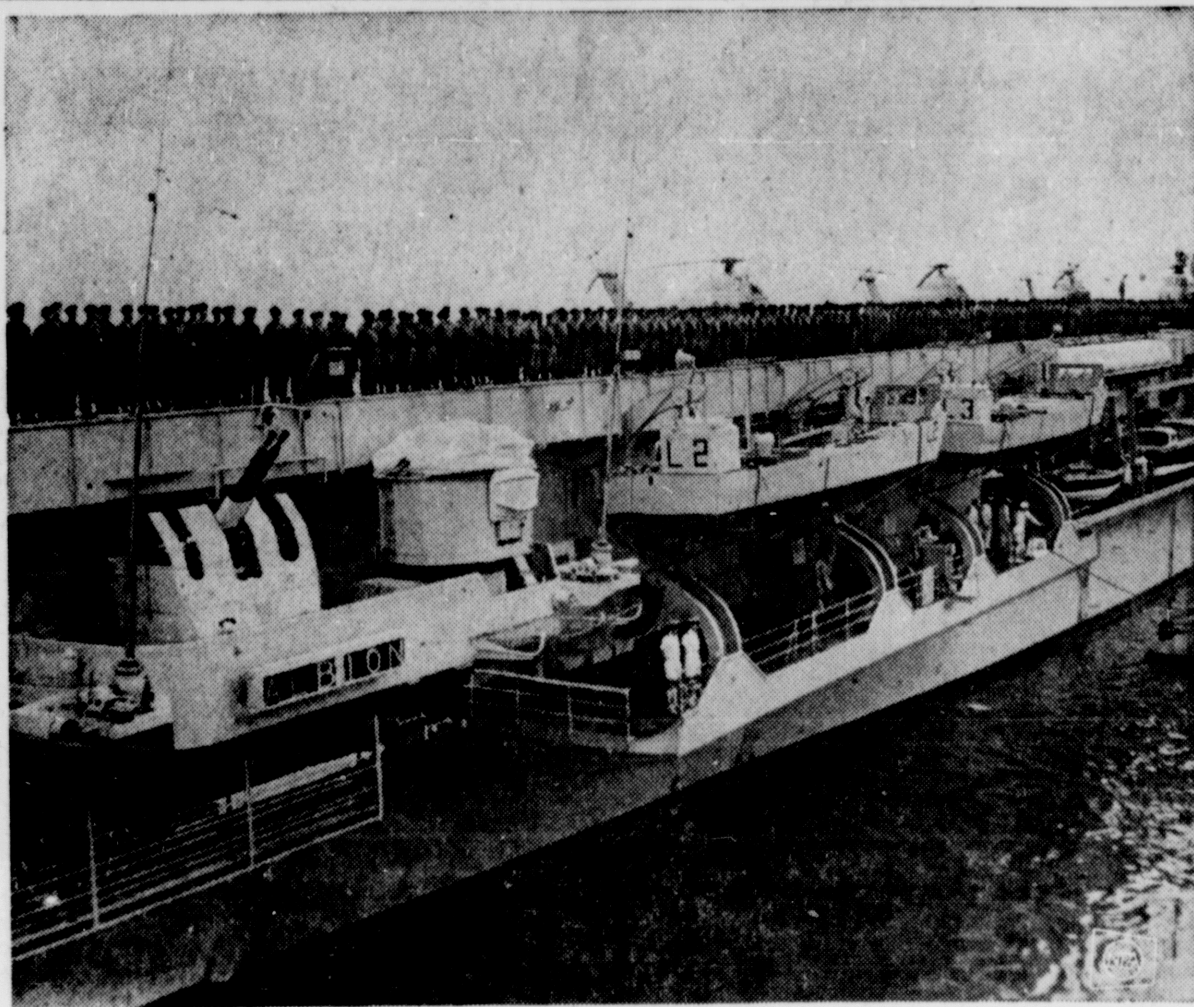

Rare Distinction
Many actors have tried their hands at books, ghosted or otherwise (Slezak used none). He has achieved the rare distinction of producing a bona fide best seller.

"It is an entirely different world, the book business," he said in awe. "I am amazed at how polite everyone is. Even when they ask for changes in your manuscript—I had only one, a joke about Albert Einstein that didn't come off—they are polite."

"What Time's the Next Swan" is a delightful book, but it no doubt received a push toward best-sellerdom by Slezak's other new line: lecturing.

"I gave 51 lectures in all parts of the country last year and was booked solid in October, November and December," he remarked craftily. "I am utterly shameless about plugging my book during my lectures."

The typical American family lives in the same house for six years and seven months, a national study made by a moving firm shows.

New U. S. Armor Made of Plastic Stops 14.5 Rifle

By RALPH DIGHTON
Associated Press Science Writer
AZUSA, Calif. (AP)—Americans in the Korean War were somewhat disturbed to encounter a hand-held Soviet 14.5 mm. rifle which bore holes through the armor of our newest tanks.

Now U.S. technology has come up with a new armor, lighter and tougher than steel, which stops the thumb-thick 14.5 mm. bullet.

Made of Plastic
The new armor is made of plastic.

Unlike metal alloys, which stop projectiles by being dense enough to absorb their high-speed energy, the new plastic plays tricks on the bullets. It lets them penetrate slightly, then twists them sideways so they break into small pieces snugly pocketed within the armor panel.

This happens even when the bullet is fired head-on.

Inventor Harry King, a materials engineer at Aerojet-General Corp., says the armor is now being tested at the Army's Aberdeen, Md., proving grounds. Many of the details are secret.

Two Inches Thick

The armor which stops the Soviet 14.5 mm. antitank projectile is made of sheets of glass fiber and secret non-metallic materials, bonded into panels about two inches thick.

Just how the bullet, traveling more than a half mile per second, is turned sideways and shattered is something that King himself isn't sure he knows.

"When I set out to make the panel, I predicted this would happen," he says, "but until the tests are completed I can't be positive why it happens."

The annual observance by Wiltwyck Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, of the birthday of America's first President George Washington occurred on Friday, Feb. 22 at the Chapter House.

Mrs. Walter T. Tremper, past regent, welcomed the group in the absence of the Chapter Regent and the two Vice Regents. The repeating of Washington's Prayer by Miss Hazel Bloom, chaplain, the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America led by Mrs. Arthur Hazenbush and the National Anthem with Miss Helen M. Turner as accompanist, opened the program.

Mrs. George Herbert DeKay, chairman of the DAR Good Citizen Committee, introduced the winners of the annual DAR Good Citizen Award: Nancy Wilkin, Walkhill Central School, Katherine Winkley, New Paltz Central School, Helene Bastian, Rondout Valley Central School, Elizabeth Jensen, Ontario Central School and Barbara Budenhagen, Kingston High School. These girls are all seniors and were chosen by their classmates as having met the following classifications: dependability, service, leadership and patriotism. Winners are eligible for the National DAR Good Citizen Award: a $1,000 scholarship to the college of the winner's choice, which will be presented at DAR Continental Congress in Constitution Hall Washington, D. C. in April.

A Good Citizen Pin and Certificate and a corsage was presented to each girl.

The Chapter Historian, Mrs. Adam H. Porter, defined the National Society's three objectives: education, history and patriotism, stating that all were obvious in the day's program.

Mrs. Porter then introduced Ernest Hopper, principal of the Tillson School, a member of his faculty Mrs. Beulah Harvey, and two of the students, Brian Waddell and Karen Grothkopp both of whom are pupils of Mrs. Alpha Craft a member of Wiltwyck Chapter and a teacher in the Tillson School. Brian graciously thanked the Chapter for the shelf of 28 books each with its DAR Bookplate.

Speaker was S. James Matthews, Kingston attorney. His talk was on customs and laws of the State of New York in the late 1600's and early 1700's, which included regulations as to trade and navigation in the Province, collection of damages done to property by wandering domestic animals, fairs and market days, burial laws, the brewing industry, purchase of land from the Indians, cutting and cording of firewood, fencing of property, swearing and cursing. The last named were punishable by the payment of one shilling to the poor and three whole hours in the stocks for adults and a whipping for children.

After recitation of the American's Creed, refreshments were served by Mrs. Harry J. Rigby Jr. and her committee in the dining-room.

Jeweled Embroidery And Renaissance Influence for Spring

By LUCIE NOEL

PARIS (AP)—Paris spring and summer styles—chic, sharp and crisp for daytime, glamorous as the shadows lengthen—were revealed today with the publication of fashion photographs.

The new Paris modes give a new feeling of security. They're young, feminine, flattering and full of news.

Biggest spring feature is the sleeve story. They're long, tight and bracelet-length for daytime, or draped in a side cowl derived from the kimono for any hour. Come evening, they are jeweled or scattered with re-embroidery and jeweled raised organdy florals.

Cap-sleeved coats appear at Chez Heim. The set-in suit sleeve with a slight puff make headlines at Dior. Floor length Japanese geisha girl sleeves stop traffic at Ricci.

There is the big suit news, too. Pointed cape shawls are an intrinsic part of the suit jacket and of every length. The idea is developed for later in the day, in dark crepes and prints, too.

White organdy calls the tune on navy blue at Saint-Laurent's. Wing collars and cuffs and saucy chin-concealing ascots dress up simple basics.

The jumper dress comes into its own, emerging after years of neglect. Yves does them in prints and plain, varying his theme. Large tie silk twill patterns are in his spring picture, shown on foulard fabric. They're seen at other houses, too, and will be the big thing in Paris, come sunshine.

To compensate covered kneecaps, some designers have come up with catchy ideas. Nina Ricci slashes a draped evening gown to the thigh. Pierre Cardin dresses a bare back with a black rose and calls it "cache-dolices." One neckline is slit open to the waist and features the black bra.

By and large, Paris designers prefer to suggest rather than stress. They say "the obvious has become too easy."

The amount of jeweled embroidery is surprising for a spring season. Designers are thinking in Renaissance terms as far as decor is concerned. Lanvin's evening gowns have tight jeweled torsos.

For very hour Paris likes the Norman peasant shirt. It can be of any length and comes in any new spring fabric. Sometimes it's just the top of a two-piece middie. Sometimes it's an overblouse and bloused.

Duffy Wedding Anniversary
In a Freeman article published on Monday, Feb. 25, concerning the 55th wedding anniversary celebration for Mr. and Mrs. George Duffy Sr., of Kingston, their children should have been listed as follows:

Morris Duffy of 128 Emerson Street; George Duffy, 450 Washington Avenue; Francis Duffy of Hurley and William Duffy of Syracuse.

The anniversary party held at The Capri Restaurant in Port Ewen on February 23 was arranged by Morris Duffy, William Duffy and their wives.

The couple exchanged vows at St. Colman's Church in East Kingston on February 24, 1908. Officiating at the time was the Rev. Robert Weir, now deceased.

Mourning Today

Q: I would like some information on the proper behavior to be observed by a family after the death of a parent. My husband passed away recently and I have asked my children, ages 18, 20 and 22, not to go to any parties, movies, dances, etc., for three months. They think I am being overly strict and old-fashioned in insisting that they stay away from social activities for this length of time. I know that mourning customs have been greatly liberalized since I was a girl but nevertheless I don't think that three months is too long a time to expect them to stay away from places of amusement. May I have your opinion on this?

A: I'm afraid you are being too strict with your children in insisting that they stay away from all social activities for three months. In the present day, one may go to the movies, the theater, to dinner or play cards with close friends as soon as one feels up to it without being criticized, and the most you can reasonably expect of them is to stay away from dances and large general parties for about six weeks.

Returning A Man's Telephone Call

Q: Is it proper for a young woman to return a man's telephone call if she was not at home when he called her?

A: If he is someone she knows very well or he left word for her to call him, it would be quite all right. But if she merely receives a message that John Jones called and he is not someone she knows well, she should wait for him to call again.

High School Cagers Defeat Our Lady of Lourdes, 54-50

MIKE IS HIGH: While Tom Levine of Lourdes watches, Mike Canning of Kingston High goes in for a layup in last night's game between the two rivals. Canning made 12 points in his club's 54-50 verdict over the visitors from Poughkeepsie. (Freeman photo)

Foul Tosses Decide Tilt In 2nd Half

By ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

Near perfect foul shooting in the third and fourth quarters enabled Kingston High to nip Our Lady of Lourdes, 54-50, in a tight struggle last night at the Kate Walton Field House.

Coach John J. Gilligan's cagers converted 10 of 12 charity tosses in the second half as they came back from a 27-24 halftime deficit to capture their ninth victory in 17 starts.

Ronnie Thomas made six of seven charity tosses as the locals caught and passed the Warriors. Trailing by five points, 37-32, the KHS cagers surged in front on a layup and two foul shots by Thomas, a hook by Jim Plunkett and two more free throws by Thomas. After Dan Crichton hit for the visitors, Larry Armstead swiped a pass and fed Mike Canning underneath. Mike scored just before the third quarter buzzer, widening the lead to three points, 42-39.

Lourdes came out fast to start the fourth period. Gary Henderson scored from near the foul line and then deadeye Mark Palinski hit with a long jump shot. The Warriors went ahead, 43-42, and it was to represent their last margin in the game.

Ahead for Good

Thomas, who rebounded from a poor first half to finish with 19 points, put the Maroon players in front with a foul line jumper. Canning went in for a layup and then fed Plunkett after stealing the ball. Big Jim made the bucket and it was a 48-43 game in favor of Kingston.

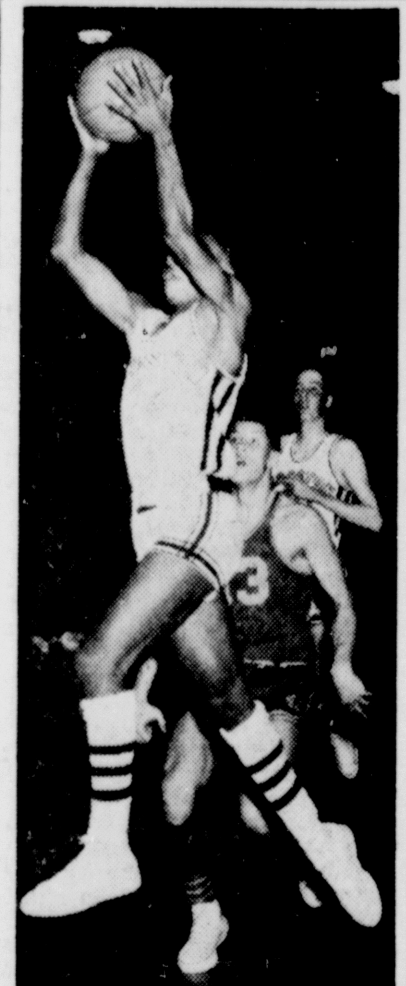

After Palinski made it close with two long bombs, Plunkett scored on a tap and Larry Marcus converted two free throws to increase the margin to five points, 52-47. The clock showed 1:40 left in the game.

One Last Chance

A foul shot by Henderson, two of them by Canning and Palinski's jumper finished the scoring for the evening. Lourdes had one final chance when Crichton fouled with 18 seconds left. He missed and the visitors never regained possession of the basketball.

The loss gave Coach Ed Donohue's hustling cagers a 10-7 mark for the season. It was the sixth straight cage loss to Kingston in three years. Lourdes will close its season with a matinee game at Pine Plains today. The Plains fine is riding an 18-game winning streak.

Kingston will conclude its season at Middletown on Friday. A victory will insure the locals of a winning season and a 6-6 record in DUSO activity.

7th Annual Event Begins Thursday At Cortland Gym

If New Paltz is to win the 7th annual State University Basketball championship, the Hawks will have to do it the hard way.

Coach Doug Sheppard's cagers have drawn top seeded Cortland State in their first round game. The tourney opens Thursday at Cortland.

Cortland, with a 13-4 record, is favored to capture honors. Defending champion Oswego, 14-5, is seeded second. New Paltz has been seeded fifth, behind Potsdam (16-3) and Buffalo (13-7). After the 15-5 Hawks come Albany (12-11), Oneonta (10-8) and Plattsburgh (10-9).

The first day of the action in the single elimination affair finds Buffalo meeting Plattsburgh at 2 p. m., Potsdam and Oneonta playing at 4, Oswego meeting Albany State at 7 and Cortland facing the Hawks at 9.

If New Paltz wins, the Hawks will face the winner of the Potsdam-Oneonta State game. A loss will send the Ulster County school into the losers' bracket.

Liston Title Bout Is Off One Week

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—After several days of sparring between promoters, managers, advisers, press agents—and incidentally Sonny Liston—the heavyweight championship fight between Liston and Floyd Patterson has been put off until April 10.

Before anyone suggested publicly the wrangling over a postponement might be a gambit to attract national publicity, Liston's adviser, Jack Nilon, announced Tuesday that "he pulled a muscle and we've got X-rays to prove it."

Liston, who has not made a public statement since the fight over the fight began, said through a spokesman that he would resume training today, six days after reportedly injuring his knee while swinging a golf club.

"No matter what anyone says, we wanted this fight on the fourth (of April) as originally scheduled," Nilon insisted.

Bearcats Win Again, Defeat Xavier, 72-61

By JIM HAKKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Since Ed Jucker became Cincinnati's basketball coach three seasons ago the Bearcats have compiled a phenomenal average by winning 'em any and all ways.

They've breezed in and they've squeezed by, they've steamed from behind and they've led wire to wire. One way or another Cincy has won an average of 13 of 14 starts under Jucker—78-6 over-all for a .929 percentage—and has captured two straight national titles.

Thursday night the Bearcats used what might be called the come from behind and coast in technique for a 72-61 victory over crosstown rival Xavier at Cincinnati Gardens. The Musketeers whipped to a 19-9 lead, but Cincinnati outscored them 28-9 in the next 12 minutes before intermission and ran its season mark to 22-1.

Wins on Goal Tending

Elsewhere, Wichita combined dazzling foul shooting and a last-second shot that was called good on the goal-tending rule for a 60-58 decision at Texas Western; Connecticut snarled up the Yankee Conference race by swamping New Hampshire on the Uconn floor, 102-72; Eastern Kentucky's home court 101-84 romp against Morehead and East Tennessee's 80-79 squeaker at Western Kentucky scrambled up the Ohio Valley title fight; and Santa Clara made it a three-way deadlock for first in the West Coast Athletic Conference, nipping San Francisco 66-65.

Wichita pulled a 4-minute stall with the score tied at 58-58, then gave the ball to Wayne Durham for a last shot which was grabbed by Texas Western's Jim Barnes. The referee called goal tending on Barnes, however, as time ran out.

Providence's NIT-bound Friars whipped St. Joseph's of Philadelphia, an NCAA entry, 83-64. Miami of Florida avenged an earlier upset by pulling away in the second half for a 75-60 victory over Stetson. Texas' Southwest Conference champions won their 12th straight, 77-59 over Rice.

In other games it was Pitt 68, Carnegie Tech 60; Memphis State 90, Centenary 79; LaSalle 75, Georgetown 72; Holy Cross 64, Boston College 59; Duquesne 78, St. Bonaventure 68; Penn 59, Temple 33; St. John's, N.Y. 82, Massachusetts 73; Dayton 57, Miami, Ohio 53; Oregon 83, Portland 75; Texas Tech 99, Texas Christian 87; Texas A&M 68, Baylor 54; Arkansas 82, Southern Methodist 79, overtime.

Casey Explains New Strike Zone

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Casey Stengel explains the new strike zone in simple Stengelese: "If you ain't a high ball hitter it should help the pitcher, that is if you're a batter and weak on the high ball. If you're a pitcher who's wild it should help."

"It don't mean its wider. It means its longer up and down. Far as the plate is concerned it's not any longer. It's just verticality. If you're a low ball pitcher, it didn't change the low ball. Maybe it helps some pitchers who walk men. Maybe it makes them a strike better off."

All this is by way of saying that baseball's greatest single master mind, the manager of the New York Mets, is confused over the effect of raising the top of the strike zone from below the armpits to above the shoulders, and lowering it from above the kneecaps to the kneecaps themselves.

Jury Still Out On Bob Turley

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Three veteran pitchers—Bob Turley, Sam Jones and Art Fowler—came to camp with the Los Angeles Angels on a trial basis this spring.

The jury is still out on Turley and Jones. Fowler, however, is not only likely to get a favorable verdict but a favorable salary adjustment as well.

Turley, a 32-year-old righthander acquired conditionally from the New York Yankees, worked two innings in an intra-squad game Tuesday. He may have given the Angels the impression they got two pitchers for the price of one.

It took him only nine pitches to retire the side in the first inning. But a different Turley pitched the second inning—using 27 pitches and giving up the only three runs of the game.

Fowler, disabled late last season when he was struck near the eye by a line drive in batting practice, also pitched two innings Tuesday. In the first, he had runners on first and third with one away but got out of trouble. The next inning he retired Lee Thomas, Leon Wagner and Bob Rodgers in order.

Jones, the third oldtimer looking for a spot on the pitching staff, has looked neither good nor bad. The forthright righthander sprained an ankle the first week of training and hasn't been able to throw.

Upstaters Take -44 in Stride, Birds Do, Too

SARANAC LAKE, N.Y. (AP)—The thermometer registered -44 this morning at a rural home between this eastern Adirondack resort and nearby Bloomingdale, but "we just take it in stride."

"Only thing really different was the birds. They swarmed to be fed earlier than usual—redwing blackbirds, grosbeaks, bluejays, woodpeckers, snow buntings. We feed them every morning."

"They're used to the cold, though, and so are we. Today will be just another day."

This was the attitude of Jack DeMatos, owner of Radio Station WNBZ, Saranac Lake, after a look at the thermometer outside his iced house.

At the Saranac Lake Airport, the official reading was -29. In the western Adirondacks, at Wanakena, it was -39, neither a record.

The record on the Wanakena books is -45, set in February 1934. The state's official record low is -52, set Feb. 9, 1934, at Stillwater Reservoir, in the southern Adirondacks.

WHATTA WINTER!

It will be a long time before this winter is forgotten. Here's an example. One day in February found Karen Briggs celebrating her election as Miss Arlington State College with a visit to the beach. The temperature in Fort Worth, Tex., that day was 74. The week wasn't out before the scene above was snapped at El Paso, Tex. Icy roads had traffic tangled all over the city.

Knives Into North Florida

Frigid Air Holds Over Wide Sector

Frigid weather covered broad areas from the Mississippi River to New England and into the Southeast today. Freezing temperatures chilled northern Florida.

Snow tapered off in most sections of the South and East after dumping from 3 to 7 inches in South Carolina northward over North Carolina and Virginia. Driving conditions were hazardous in many parts of the three states. Snow also ended in West Virginia, Tennessee and Kentucky.

The cold air belt, with temperatures far below zero in many areas, extended from northern sections of Illinois and Indiana and Ohio through Pennsylvania, northern New York into northern Maine.

Temperatures moderated in the cold-plagued regions of the northern Midwest but another batch of arctic air appeared on the way. The 35 reading in Huron, S.D., compared to -8 Tuesday morning.

The mercury dropped to 25 below zero in Old Town, Me., and to an unofficial -24 in East Poeskill, N.Y. It was -18 in Bradford, Pa.; -17 in Fort Wayne, Ind.; -13 in Watertown, N.Y.; and Burlington, Vt.; -10 in Glens Falls, N.Y.; -9 in Columbus, Ohio, and -8 in Elmira, N.Y.

Anchorage, Alaska reported a low of 36 above. In the Southeast, snow fell in Charleston, S.C. Television station WIS in Columbia, S.C., was cut off the air due to a power shortage because of the heavy snow. It was 10 in Nashville, Tenn., and Asheville, N.C., 16 in Atlanta and 32 in Tallahassee, Fla. It was 36 in Miami.

Quilty Is Named To Marist Board

A Kingston insurance agent, and a Red Hook and Poughkeepsie attorney, have been named to the Board of Advisers of Marist College.

They are Lawrence Quilty, this city, a member of the board of visitors at the State University College of Education at New Paltz, and William J. Walsh, Red Hook and Poughkeepsie attorney.

The purpose of the Marist board is to advise Brother Linus R. Foy, president, in long range planning on academic, financial and construction questions. The board members work directly with Brother Linus and make recommendations.

The board presently is working on a preliminary draft of a 10-year master plan for the college. Other members of the board of advisers include James A. Dwyer, president of the Rondout National Bank; Bernard Feeney, chairman of the Ulster Community College Board of Trustees.

Delay Rail Strike

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Railway Clerks Union obeyed Tuesday night a California court's order directing a 10-day delay in strike action against the Southern Pacific Railroad. Union leaders declared they would seek prompt court action to upset the temporary injunction.

A strike by the union, which has been engaged in a prolonged dispute over automation layoffs on the 8,000-mile Southern Pacific System, would have idled some 30,000 Southern Pacific workers in seven Western states.

Oppose Dutchess Retail Sales Tax

Opposition to a move to adopt a retail sales tax in Dutchess County was voiced Tuesday by Albert Hecht, chairman of the Dutchess County Democratic Committee, and Sidney Reitman, chairman of that county's Liberal Party.

Hecht said he would fight to defeat what he termed a "Republican hierarchy move" to adopt the sales tax in the county. He called upon the Board of Supervisors to lead a statewide move for the adoption of an off-track betting law as a means of raising new revenue for the county and the state.

Hecht said the county might realize between $1 and $2 million in revenues to ease the real estate tax burden, and the state would receive a similar amount from Dutchess County through taxes from legalized off-track betting.

Reitman said he would ask State Liberal party leaders to "head off this Republican steamroller attempt to adopt a sales tax in Dutchess County and neighboring counties including Ulster and Orange as suggested by some Dutchess supervisors."
